DEATH FOLLOWS PATH OF STORM

Scores Dead in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

RAILROAD BRIDGES ARE SWEPT AWAY

Reports Tell of Landslides and Inundations.

One Town in the Keystone State Is Completely Isolated and Many Others Are Flooded—Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Suffers Severe Losses Throughout the State and Traffic Is Much Delayed.

Pittsburgh, July 25.—The latest estimate of dead resulting from the big rain storm which yesterday swept over Pennsylvania and West Virginia is forty-five, distributed as follows.

In western Pennsylvania—At Uniontown, fourteen, at Smock mine, near Grindstone, fourteen; at Lima mine, two

In West Virginia—At Wheeling, two; at Lemont, four miners drowned.

Six are reported drowned at New Martinsville and at Ellenwood, West Virginia. H. L. King, Mrs. H. L. King and child are reported drowned

The local railroads were given one of the most severe blows in years in yesterday's storm. From points throughout western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, reports kept coming in during the afternoon telling of bridges being swept away, landslides obliterating tracks, washouts and inundations.

One Town Isolated.

Uniontown, Pennsylvania, was completely isolated by the tie-up of both the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio Many smaller towns along the branches of the railroads were similarly affected.

The railroad bridge at Connellsville, west side, between Connellsville and Mt. Braddock, was washed away, tying up the southwest branch of the B & O It is figured that at least eighteen hours will be required to place the bridge.

On the Pittsburgh division the Turtle Creek branch was badly washed out and the Youghiogheny branch was tied up between Irwin and Cowansburg and the Alexandria branch was washed out north of Crab Tree.

The tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio were washed out in many places on the Pittsburgh and Western division, and also on the Wheeling and Pittsburgh section.

In West Virginia.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 25.—With telephone and telegraph wires down, railway traffic all awry from washouts and the streams of the state raging torrents, West Virginia is today slowly ascertaining the effects of the worst storm it has ever experienced Yesterday's wind and rain blew down many buildings and growing crops, causing damage estimated at over $1,000,000. Five are known to be dead, but it is believed later reports will bring the number up to at least a dozen. The Ohio river valley is preparing for a flood, the first time in history that the river has ever left its banks in July.

All Men Save Lives.

Pittsburgh, July 25.—It was stated by mine officials, this morning, that fourten men were drowned by the flood in the Smock mine. This report happily proves to be untrue, while the miners in the Smock mine were seriously menaced by the rising waters, all escaped in safety, according to official advices at noon today.

Repetition of Floods.

Pittsburgh, July 25.—The second extraordinary rainfall in a few days caused a repetition of the floods of Sunday and the attendant damage and danger. The downpour, the heaviest ever recorded by the local weather bureau for the time it lasted, was general throughout the Monongahela watershed, causing a rapid rise in the rivers, the crest of which will be reached some time today It is possible that a twenty-foot stage will be reached. The Monongahela recorded 17.4 feet at 8 a m today and was rising at the rate of six inches an hour. Reports from upriver points as far as Greensboro at that hour were that the water was continuing to rise slowly.

KILLS MAD CANINE WITH BARE HANDS

Columbus Policeman Chokes the Dog to Death.

Columbus, O., July 25.—Jack Abernathy, the Oklahoman who kills wolves with his bare hands, must yield the palm for reckless bravery to a Columbus policeman, who, Wednesday, killed a mad bulldog wth his hands.

The officer was Motorcycle Policeman Rowland and the dog, one of powerful build, was owned by Mrs. W. E. Babcock. She noticed the animal was mad and managed to coax him out of the house and closed the door. The dog sat down on the front steps and kept the family locked in.

Rowland responded to a call for police help. He was without a revolver and he feared to leave the dog longer in the street. Slipping up behind he grabbed him by the neck and wrapped him in a piece of carpet. Thinking the dog temporarily crazed by the heat, he turned a hose on him.

The dog was infuriated, and in a rough-and-tumble fight around the front yard he extricated himself and again took his position in front of the house. Rowland again advanced to the attack. He again grabbed the animal by the neck and succeeded in choking him to death after he himself was fairly covered with foam from the dog's mouth. He was not scratched. An examination showed the animal had hydrophobia.

WAX FIGURE CAUSES WILD EXCITMENT

Murder Mystery at Dayton Proves To Be a Joke.

Dayton, O., July 25.—Responding to a call for help in recovering a body found floating in the Hydraulic Wednesday, Officers Spurgeon and Hartman made a speedy run to the scene.

Hundreds of persons lined the banks, all apparently unable to recover the body, which could be plainly seen.

One of the officers secured a rake, which finally caught in the hair, and the body was pulled ashore, when, to the astonishment of all, it became known that some one had thrown a wax figure into the stream to stir up a little excitement.

The figure had been wrapped in burlap and all indications pointed to a genuine mystery until the hoax was discovered.

In London Thousands of Extra Police Are Held in Reserve for Riot Duty, and Guards Are Doubled All Around Docks on Which Strike-Breakers Are at Work—Bitter Feeling Among the Men.

London, July 25.—Labor leaders at the head of the dock workers' strike here today took steps to make the strike of national proportions and to carry on the war against the ship owners in every port in the United Kingdom. They plan to call out 300,000 men. The authorities are alarmed over the situation following the rioting of yesterday following bitterly hostile attitude of thousands of strikers and their sympathizers toward the police, whom they declare to be open allies of the vessel owners. Thousands of extra police were held in reserve for riot duty today, and the guards were doubled around all of the docks on which strike-breakers are at work. Special police guards were placed about the residences of all the cabinet ministers and around the home of Lord Davenport, whom the strikers view as their bitterest enemy among the employers.

To Spread Strike.

In urtherance of the national strike plan, Tom Mann, Havelock Wilson, Harry Goslind and S. Robert Williams, the leaders who are directing the strike, today left London for Hull, where they will put the strike movement in motion. From Hull they will proceed to Cardiff, Manchester, South Plymouth and Bristol. FINANCIAL KING IS CONTRIBUTOR

To the Republican Campaign Fund of 1904.

MORGAN'S NAME IS BROUGHT INTO PROBE

Frick and Harriman Are Also Big Givers

According to George R. Sheldon, New York Banker, Who Testifies Before Senate Sub-Committee, Harriman Raises $230,000 for the 1904 Campaign — Over 16,000 Persons Contribute to Fund.

Washington, July 25.—J. P. Morgan & Company, as well as Henry C. Frick, were contributors to the Republican war chest in 1904, and E. H. Harriman collected a fund of $230,000 for the state campaign of 1908, according to George R. Sheldon, a New York banker, who has been identified with the national committee since 1896 and was its treasurer in 1904. Mr. Sheldon testified today before the senate subcommittee investigating campaign expenditures. He filed with the investigators today detailed records of the receipts and expenditures of 1908, including a list of 16,000 contributors, whose gifts totalled $1,655,518.27.

Mr. Sheldon declared that men connected with Morgan & Company and Henry C. Frick had told him of those contributions in the 1904 campaign, the records of which he said he understood had been destroyed. He could recall no amounts.

Sheldon Is Questioned.

"What do you know of any contributions by E. H. Harriman in 1904?" Senator Paynter asked him.

"I think that has all been published," said Mr. Sheldon, "but about a week before the election, Governor Odell, who was then state chairman in New York and very much interested in the election of Higgins, came to Mr. Bliss, the national committee treasurer, and told him that whereas it seemed perfectly clear that Mr. Roosevelt would be elected, the state ticket was in doubt and asked Mr. Bliss for some money. Bliss told him he had no money, but that he would see what could be done. Bliss went to Mr. Harriman and told him about it and Harriman got together some $230,000 which was given direct to the state committee."

ROOSEVELT IS NOT WORRIED

Over Prospect of Third Party in New York,

BUT LAW MAY BAR ELECTORS

Colonel's Maryland Followers Up in the Air.

Whether To Form Third Party or Stay with Republicans, Roosevelt Men Can Not Decide—Ex-Senator Beveridge Comes Out for New Progressive Movement—Bull Moose Men Prepare for Convention.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 25.—Colonel Roosevelt laughed today over the opinion expressed by Election Commissioner Livingston, of Brooklyn, that under the law there can be no third party electors in New York state. Livingston's ideas, as exploited in an interview, was that the only candidates who may be put up by petition, as the third party candidates must be, are those for state offices. Presidential electors, Livingston maintains, are in that way debarred from a place on the ballot.

"Preposterous," exclaimed Roosevelt. "The idea advanced by Mr. Livingston is merely a development of the attitude of the national committee that the people have no voice in their own affairs. The committee stands for rule by politicians. That's what Mr. Livingston wants.

"What Mr. Livingston fails to understand is that the politician and the office-holder are the servants of the people The people are going to have their say about the putting of electors on the ticket. We are going to have a third ticket in the state this fall. Mr. Livingston will find that out. Nothing can prevent it."

Nothing Can Stop It.

The ex-president maintained that nothing under the law can stop the third party putting up a set of electors by petition.

Colonel Roosevelt laughed when he was told that the Wilson managers contemplated putting William J. Bryan on the colonel's trail in the fall campaign.

"Is that so?" he replied. "Nothing to say."

The colonel went horseback riding this morning with Mrs Roosevelt. The colonel is getting in a good rest here, prior to his activities in August. He expects to be in Chicago the entire time of the third party convention, getting there Monday, August 6. After the convention he expects to make several short trips.

This will be before the actual campaign work begins. Four of them are in prospect. One to Point of Pines, in Massachusetts, is scheduled for the middle of August.

Maryland Situation.

Baltimore, July 25.—Whether to form a third party in the state of Maryland, thus separating themselves entirely from the Republican party, or whether they should coalesce with the Republicans along certain lines, including electors, were the questions being threshed out by followers of Colonel Roosevelt before the convening of the Bull Moose convention in the Empire theater here today. Conferences were held all night and early today, at which this question was the most important discussed. Lines of action were agreed upon for submission today to the convention, which was expected to be more or less a duplication of the conferences.

A score or more speeches in which all the differences developed would be again brought to view were expected. Colonel E. C. Carrington was chosen to call the convention to order and a committee of five was appointed to select the chairman and secretary. The eight delegates to the recent Chicago convention, who favored Roosevelt, will be invited to attend the coming Chicago convention as delegates.

Beveridge Favors Idea.

Indianapolis, July 25.—Former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge has announced himself as strongly in favor of the progressive—new party—movement. In a lengthly letter from his summer home at Seal Harbor, Maine, to progressive leaders here, Mr. Beveridge gives his answer to letters received from Indiana asking where he stands in the political situation.

Beveridge points out that the status of both Roosevelt and Taft is exactly the same as before the Chicago convention, and declares that the matter of "party regularity" should not now be binding, because Taft was not nominated by a lawful majority of delegates honestly chosen.

Mr. Beveridge also points out that the present crisis presents an opportunity tor progressives of all sections and parties to unite in the overthrow of boss control.

Prepare for Convention.

Chicago, July 25.—That Colonel Theodore Roosevelt would attend the meeting of the Illinois Bull Moose convention at Orchestra hall on the Saturday preceding the national third party convention here was announced today by the Progressive leaders. Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, and Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester of the United States, will also be here for the Illinois convention, which is expected to start the enthusiasm in the third party movement. Both Johnson and Pinchot will be among the speakers, and others who have taken a prominent part in the national movement will be added to the list.

To Name Delegates.

Portland, Ore., July 25.—The third party convention to name five delegates to the national convention in Chicago was scheduled to meet here today.

The leaders will not put a third party ticket in the field here. The call for the convention was issued by the National Progressive club, of Oregon, of which Charles W. Ackerson, one of Oregon's delegates to the Republican national convention, is the head.

Beveridge To Sound Keynote.

Chicago, July 25.—Former Senator Beveridge will be temporary chairman of the Progressive national convention. This was announced today by Senator Joseph M. Dixon.

The former Indiana senator has accepted the position, and will sound the keynote of the new movement.

Seat Sale Is Opened.

Chicago, July 25.—The sale of seats for the Progressive convention opened here today under direction of Ralph C. Otis and Laverne W. Noyes, chairman and treasurer of the executive committee. The seats are offered at $20, $15 and $10. They cover the entire convention, August 5, 6 and 7.

Mrs. Frank Naturi, the mother, when she realized her child had died in the flames rushed to the swollen Monongahela river near by and threw herself in. She was rescued with difficulty. John Naturi, an eighteen-year-old son, was badly burned in the fire.

VILLAGE DISAPPEARS AS RESULT OF A QUAKE.

Lima, Peru, July 25.—The village of Huancabamba, near Piura, in northern Peru, is reported to have totally disappeared as the result of the earthquake which shook Guayaquil and badly damaged Piura. It is feared that hundreds of inhabitants have perished. Only meager details are obtainable, as all communication is cut off from the village.

CONFESSION IN ROSENTHAL CASE

Will Cause Sensation in Police Circles.

CHAUFFEUR TURNS STATE'S EVIDENCE

And He Will Tell All to the Prosecutor.

Chauffeur Will Name Every Man Who Rides in "Murder" Auto and Tell Every Fact That He Knows in Connection with Death of Wealthy Gambler at the Hotel Metropole. Inquest Is Adjourned.

New York, July 25.—Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty announced at noon today that William Shapiro, the chauffeur who drove the automobile which carried the assassins to and from the Hotel Metropole for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, had turned state's evidence and would make a full confession this afternoon, in which he would name every man who rode in the car and tell every fact that he knew in connection with the killing.

Before this announcement was made, John Reissler, alias "John, the Barber," who is under arrest under a perjury charge, furnished District Attorney Whitman with an affidavit in which he swore he saw Louis "Bridgie" Webber running away from the Hotel Metropole just after Rosenthal was killed.

Harry Vallon was also taken into Coroner Feinberg's court, but the hearing of all four men went over until Monday at 10 a. m. upon request of District Attorney Whitman, who asked for the postponement on the ground that new evidence and new witnesses are being uncovered so fast that he has been unable so far to give proper attention to the cases against the four men.

Police Shield Murderers.

New York, July 25.—That the New York police are shielding the real murderers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler shot down after he had accused the police of levying blackmail, is the charge openly made by the newspapers here today. They assert that three of the five men whom the police profess to be "anxious to find" are appearing daily in their usual haunts without any attempt at concealment.

One newspaper today heads its story with this declaration in black type:

"Nine days have elapsed since Herman Rosentahl was assassinated before an assemblage of half a hundred persons in front of the Metropole hotel, and the men who committed the crime are still at large."

District Atorney Whitman was told that two of the men he wants were at Forty-Eighth street and Sixth avenue night before last. Harry Horowitz, known as "Gib the Blood," has dritten a friend that he will attend a meeting of the Sam Paul association tonight.

The man who got the letter is a close personal friend of Lieutenant Charles A. Becker. "Gib the Blood", intimates he may be expected to ride in style to police headquarters at any time and give himself up as others have done. One extract from his letter is:

"You know they can't get anything on me. All I'm afraid of is some of these hot heads will blow on me before I've got things squared. Are they stalling on Bridge?"

It is inferred that he, Horowitz has been having trouble getting his allbi in shape.

Witman's New Tactics.

The district attorney is working today on a suspicion that "Bridgie" Webber took a noted gun man and gangster to the Fort Lowry hotel at Bath Beach the Thursday before the murder and brought him to New York Saturday. The gun man cannot be found. John J. Reisler, better known as "John the Barber," who was locked up yesterday after he had denied under oath that he had told the district attorney and others that he saw Webber running away from the Metropole after the killing of Rosenthal, had promised to tell all he knows. Deputy Dougherty had a talk with the repentant barber early today, and left immediately in an automobile saying as he sped away, "the case looks better every minute."

The police officials and district attorney are picking holes in several alibis offered by the prisoners, but Webber seems to be the object of their heavy fire. They have strong hopes of inducing him to talk freely and it is known that the others seem to fear worse than any that Webber will "squeal."

A man known as "Chick" Beebe is the chief hope of the district attorney. Harry Vlinsky, alias Vallon, proved by two witnesses that he was in bed at No. 226 east Fourteen-

Corn close ½ to ⅞c lower. Rains in Nebraska and parts of Kansas enhancing crop prospects were the depressing influences.

CHAUTAUQUA PLEASES MANY THOUSANDS

One of Most Successful Events in City's History.

SPEAKERS OF NOTE HEARD BY PATRONS

The Addresses Contain Much for Thought—A Number of Concerts and Other Features Are on the Program and the Bill as a Whole Is Excellent.

The Marion County Chautauqua for 1912 is rapidly passing into history as the third successful affair of its kind enjoyed by thousands of patrons in Marion and Marion county and from surrounding towns and counties.

The Chautauqua was opened last Saturday afternoon, and on the assurance of those under whose direction it is being given one of the finest Chautauqua bills in the country was as good as paid for when the first number was given. Hundreds of enthusiastic patrons of the last Chauqua had given substantial assurance of their patronage, this year, by subscribing for tickets for the full series of lectures and entertainments, and, owing to this, the management was enabled to go into the Chautauqua marts and buy for Marion some of the best talent available.

The patronage throughout the week has been excellent. The big tent has been filled daily and nightly, and many have taken advantage of the splendid opportunity for camping on the Chautauqua grounds and life in open air for a week, free from all the cares of household or business.

The grounds are dotted with tents of various dimensions. Some are pretentious, and some are not, but all breathe the spirit of the Chautauqua, and every occupant is happy.

Rain has, in a measure, annoyed some during the week but there are others who extract pleasure from an occasional ducking or an adventure in the darkness making everything secure in advance of a promised deluge. Quite a bit of rain has fallen during the week, but it has not dampened the ardor of the campers, and not a stake has been pulled.

The grounds, as a rule, have been in excellent condition, and the shady breathing spots have been delightful during the intermissions in the program given in the big tent, where about 2,600 people can be accommodated comfortably at one time.

As stated before, the program was opened last Saturday afternoon. President W. T. Jones delivered a pleasing address of welcome, the Ernest Gamble Concert company then gave a brief, but very select, musical program. Then J. Adam Bede, one of the able platform speakers of the country, delivered a fine address, in which he submitted many pleasing thoughts and gave some timely hints on where the country is drifting in the way of government.

In the evening, the Gamble concert company occupied the boards and pleased the patrons. Dr. W. L. Davidson, who is again in charge, arrived in time for this session.

Sunday was a big day. In the afternoon and evening the concert company gave preludes to two excellent lectures. George H. Stuart was heard in the afternoon in his sermon-lecture, "The Christian Home—the Citadel of Our Nation" In the evening Rev. Father McCorry gave an illustrated lecture, "The City Beautiful," and was well received.

Monday morning, "The Birth of Christ" was given during the Bible hour with a series of dramatic impersonations by Madame Lydia Mountford, a native of Jerusalem. She has been on the bill each day of the week, and her work has carried with it much instruction.

Dr. F. C. Lockwood also spoke, Monday morning, his theme being "Longfellow, America's Most Popular Poet." He proved an able speaker, and his series of addresses proved both entertaining and instructive.

Company Gathers at County Home and Spends Sunday.

GEOLOGIST INSPECTS THE POISON FARM

Can Not Account for Nine Deaths on One Place.

Centralia, Ill., July 23.—E. W. Shaw, of Washington, geologist with the United States geographic survey, has just completed an examination of the Ackerman farm here where nine persons died from a mysterious disease.

Shaw asserts that reports that the deaths were caused by a peculiar poisonous weed are untrue, and that he found nothing that would account for a peculiarly deadly disease on the farm.

CHARGES ALIENATION OF WIFE'S AFFECTIONS

Richwood Man Brings Suit for $10,000 Damages.

IN COMMON PLEAS COURT AT MARYSVILLE

Frank Fish Charges John M. Horn, Wealthy and Prominent Richwood Man, With Alienating the Affections of His Wife, Flora, and Breaking Up His Home.

John M. Horn, one of Richwood's wealthiest and most prominent citizens, became defendant Saturday in a sensational suit for $10,000 damages filed by Frank Fish, also of Richwood, who charges him with alienating the affections of his wife, Mrs. Flora Fish, says the Marysville Tribune. S. W. Van Winkle represents the plaintiff.

The suit produced in Richwood and northern Union county, something of the effect of a thunderclap from a clear sky. Mr. Horn is about sixty years of age and has long been a resident of Claibourne township. He is connected with the Richwood Clay Manufacturing company and has been very prominent in church and social circles. It is understood that he strongly protests his innocence of the accusation and will fight the case to the end.

The petition recites that Mr. and Mrs. Fish were married about twelve years ago, and that they lived very happily until the affections of the wife were alienated by Mr. Horn. Plaintiff declares that his home has been broken up, that he has been caused great mental anguish and that he has been damaged in the sum of $10,000.

Fortunately, the motorman of the car had stopped at Church street and was going slowly, being able to stop within a few feet after the car struck the automobile.

The fender of the auto was badly bent, and the front axle badly sprung.

BUCYRUS CITIZEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Worries Over a Cancer from Which He Is a Sufferer.

Worrying over a cancer, from which he had suffered for many weeks, Leo Haspeslagh, seventy-four years of age, of Middletown street, hung himself some time during Sunday night with a clothesline. He was found this morning in his bedroom about 5 o'clock, the rope tied around his neck and fastened to the ceiling, while his feet were flat upon the floor so that death probably came from strangling. Some time last fall a cancer started growing and as the days passed it kept getting worse until a hole had decayed in his head the size of a dollar He was well known in this city and the sad tale of his death will be learned with sorrow by his many friends.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock Services will be conducted at the Catholic church by Rev. Father Braschler. Interment will be made in the Holy Trinity cemetery.—Bucyrus Telegraph.

PUSSY ATTRACTS THE ATTENTION OF FAMILY

When Fire Breaks Out in a Farm Barn Near Tiffin.

Spontaneous combustion of hay, in the mow of a large barn on the Isaac R. Martin farm, about three miles south of Tiffin, resulted in a fire which completely destroyed the structure, Saturday morning, says the Tiffin Tribune. There was but one cow in the barn, at the time, the other live stock having been let out to pasture, and this animal was gotten from the barn. A large amount of machinery and hay was also destroyed.

The discovery of the fire was made in a peculiar manner. About 2 o'clock one of the young ladies of the family was attracted to her window by the scratching against the window pane by the family cat, which had crawled up a grape arbor beside the window. When the young lady went to the window to let the cat in she discovered the fire and aroused the members of the family.

SONS OF VETERANS TRANSACT BUSINESS

Four Members Are Received During Session, Monday Evening.

At meeting of Marion Camp, No. 65, Sons of Veterans, held in the G. A. R. hall Monday night, four members were obligated and the regular business matters were given attention.

With the closing of the charter, next Thursday night, the local commander of the camp, Don E J. Brockett, will arrange for regular drill work. The team will be organized at the next meeting which will be held the second Monday of August. Arrangements are being made for military paraphernalia and accouterments with which the degree team will work, and it is proposed that drill practice will be begun just as soon as the equipment is received.

After the report of Delegate William J. Sontag was read and Patriotic Instructor Rev. E. L. Weatherwax had given a short talk, the meeting was closed.

MORE TREES OR CYCLONE CELLARS

Secretary Sandels Says Ohio Must Have One or the Other.

"We must either reforest our denuded acres in Ohio or build cyclone cellars to provide safety from the windstorms that are becoming common in the state"

This is the conclusion of A. P. Sandles, secretary of the state board of agriculture, after a careful investigation of storm damage through the state during the present year.

Sandles, who always is digging through the facts connected with agriculture in the State, is strong for more trees. He is firmly convinced that, with thousands of acres of trees growing, there would be less storm damage, more surplus moisture stored up in the earth for the benefit of the growing crops and a better condition generally for all the people. His first advice is to plant trees. If he has anything further it would be to keep on planting trees.

TWO SHERIFFS ARE NECESSARY FOR SALE

Of a Lot of Chattel Goods on Dividing Line of Two Counties.

Sheriff Cad Price, of Union county, and the sheriff of Madison county will conduct a joint sale of chattel property at the farm of Link Harris, on the Post road, east of Plain City, on Monday, August 5. The Harris farm is directly on the dividing line between the two counties. It is the first time in many years that there has been a joint sale of this kind in which the Union county sheriff has participated Mr Harris has been a prosperous colored farmer, but he got into financial troubles when he purchased a saloon in Columbus, which proved his undoing. The saloon deal was also instrumental in involving Beverly Depp, Jr., another colored farmer, of Jerome township, this county, who went on some of Harris' notes for borrowed money.—Marysville Tribune.

P. W. FETTER VICTIM OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Is Run Down by Machine Driven by C. C. Smith.

UNUSUAL SIDE LIGHT ON ACCIDENT TUESDAY

An Enterprising Accident Insurance Man Takes Advantage of the Circumstances To Talk to the Victim, the Auto Driver and the Crowd About Dangers of Streets.

P. W. Fetter, a real estate dealer residing on east Center street, was struck by a four-passenger automobile driven by C. C. Smith, near the intersection of State and Center streets about 11:30 o'clock Tuesday.

Fetter stepped into the street on the Center street side of Turner's grocery and was looking east when he was struck by the machine, which was traveling east at a moderate rate of speed. The driver thought Fetter had seen his machine and intended to wait for it to pass, but Fetter had not seen it and stepped immediately in its path.

The victim was knocked down and painfully injured. His left hand was badly cut, and his left leg and foot severely bruised.

Fetter was removed to his home in a wagon, and Dr. L. D. Hamilton gave him the necessary attention.

Three friends of Smith from Hancock county occupied the machine with Smith at the time of the accident.

An incident of the accident was the prompt appearance of an accident insurance agent on the scene, who tried to sell the owner of the machine liability insurance, sent the victim home with a hand filled with good reasons for carrying insurance, and talked to those in the crowd about the auto in an effort to sell insurance while an example of the dangers of the streets was before their eyes.

County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter has prepared the docket for the term of the circuit court which will open September 10. There are twenty-four cases on the docket, which is the largest since Clerk Klinefelter has held the office.

SOCIETY WOMAN USES FIST ON HER ENEMY

Knocks Sister Club Member Down in Sharon Street.

Caught Walking with Another Woman's Husband, Pennsylvania Woman Is Pummeled and Kicked in View of Hundreds.

Sharon, Pa., July 23.—An assault by Mrs. Charles S. Flowers, a member of the Prospect Heights club, upon Mrs. C. Weggnman, also a member of the Prospect Heights, when Mrs. Flowers saw her husband walking with her enemy, startled the city Monday.

Mrs. Flowers had been shopping, and as she was returning home she saw her husband walking along Dock street chatting with Mrs. Weggnman.

Mrs. Flowers hurried across the street and, without saying a word, dropping her bundles on the sidewalk, gave Mrs. Weggnman a smashing blow on the right cheek. Blow after blow followed, and with a strong right-arm punch to the left temple Mrs. Flowers felled her rival, while her husband looked on with terror.

Mrs. Flowers kicked Mrs. Weggnman repeatedly, and slapped her in the face Just as Mrs Flowers drew back her foot for a final kick at Mrs. Weggnman, her slipper flew from her dainty foot.

The petite Mrs. Flowers hopped across the street to where her slipper was lying, picked it up and walked back to the curb, where she sat down and replaced it on her foot.

Mrs. Weggnman was assisted to her feet by the husband of her assailant and taken to her home. The encounter was witnessed by a policeman and a large crowd of spectators, none of whom dared to interfere.

DREDGING COMPANY COMPLETES WORK

Little Scioto River Channel Now in Good Shape.

The county commissioners and County Surveyor George Dwyer visited the Little Scioto river improvement, Monday afternoon, to make an inspection and see that the banks were left in a level condition.

The work of widening and deepening the river has been completed and the Timothy Foohey Dredging company has torn down its dredge and house boat.

COUNTY OFFICIALS WOULD HOLD OVER

Infirmary Directors of State Loath To Give Up Jobs.

The infirmary directors throughout the state are loath to give up their positions and the boards of six counties, including Clark, Hamilton, Montgomery and some of the larger counties of the state are now thinking seriously of instituting legal proceedings in an effort to have their terms extended. If the terms of the directors in these counties are extended the same rule will apply to Marion county, and the local infirmary directors would serve about eight months longer.

The members of the infirmary boards, it is said, will set up their claim for an extension of their term upon the theory that they were elected under the provisions that they shall serve until their successors have been elected and qualified. Under this contention, they hold that they will continue in office to September 18, 1913, when the board of commissioners, to be elected at the coming November election, take up their duties.

The prosecuting attorneys of a number of the counties, however, have given their boards but little encouragement, holding that the law which abolished the office of infirmary director repealed the law under which the present infirmary boards were elected and consequently the duties of the office would fall into the hands of the county commissioners after the 1st of January.

The question will probably be submitted to Attorney General Hogan who will give a ruling in the case and settle it.

CHARLES M'CARTNEY DIES IN CAPITAL CITY

Death Comes to Former Resident of Marion.

Charles McCartney, of Columbia street, received word Tuesday of the death of his uncle, Richard McCartney, who died in St. Anthony's hospital in Columbus, that morning, Mr. McCartney was seventy-four years of age, and his death was due to a cancer at the base of his head, of which he had been a sufferer about ten years.

Mr. McCartney had lived in Marion county many years. He had never been married. He was a nurse at the county infirmary twenty-three years and was very well known. About two years ago, his condition became such that he was compelled to enter the hospital in which he died. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church.

The deceased is survived by one brother, Charles McCartney, also a patient at St. Anthony's hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Condron, a niece of the deceased, and her children, and Mr. McCartney, a nephew, went to Columbus Tuesday. The remains were taken to Minorton, south of Columbus, where the funeral was held from the Catholic church at that place, Wednesday morning.

Dear Sir—I am just notified by Mr. Fite that he has leased the room we occupy, and that we will have to vacate by August 1st. Now, Mr. Hockett. I know this will be a disappointment to you, but I hope you won't blame me, as I supposed, of course, that you would continue in room by the month just as we had done.

Have considered carefully your proposition to remain in your employ, have decided to accept, and am at your command. Something must be done at once, in reference to the disposition of this stock. Write or telephone me.

Yours truly,
Frank E. Peters.

Our position is explained by the above telegram and letter. We only closed contract for this stock of pianos Thursday, July 18, and are notified under date of July 19, that room has been rented by another piano firm, and that we must vacate by August 1st.

This stock of pianos had been reduced by Frank E. Peters with view of selling store, and we have had no time since purchasing to get new goods. Good upright pianos at $100, $150, $175, $200, $250 and $275. If you contemplate the purchase of a piano within one year, you can afford to buy now, and on some of these pianos save more than $100.

Six pianos bought by Mr. Peters before selling to us are in transit, and if they reach Marion before close of our sale, August 1, will be added to stock and sold, with any pianos that may be taken back or repossessed, on which we will allow purchaser to take up remaining payments of party from whom piano is taken back.

SATURDAY - - - - JULY 27

Now that Mr. Latham has been gored to death by a buffalo, we are more strongly convinced that the only way for an aviator to preserve his life is to keep off the ground.

"Weary Willie" has been vindicated at last. The health officer of Boston claims that soap is full of deadly microbes.

A Hoosier tramp, having become a millionaire, is now remembering with princely gifts the people who were kind to him before his days of affluence. But so few tramps become millionaires.

It's hard to think of anything one would like to do better than go fishing these days, unless it were to go skating.

Some fellows, who have never succeeded in getting into the limelight, have discovered that one way to get their names in print is to come out with a statement to the effect that they will not vote for Taft.

In the hurly-burly of the two big conventions in succeeding weeks, we neglected to point out that there were not any fatalities as a result of that "slug-'em-over-the-ropes" propaganda.

Governor Wilson having selected his board of managers, Colonel Bryan would be more than human did he not permit his thoughts to dwell, at times, on the sins of omission.

The credulous ones, who bought stocks in alleged prosperous concerns agreeing to pay ten-per-cent.-a-month dividends, gold mines and other schemes for defrauding the public, expended $50,000,000 more last year than in any previous year in the history of the nation, which may be one reason why some of the people are anxious for a change of administration. They want the times so hard they will not have any money to invest in wildcat schemes.

The peach crop is so heavy that owners of peach orchards in the lake district are picking a portion of the green fruit to prevent the limbs from breaking under the loads they bear, from which we assume, that, a portion of the fruit being thus sacrificed, the prices will be about the same as usual.

It is evident that Colonel Roosevelt hopes to show Colonel Bryan that the latter isn't so much. Colonel Bryan, it will be remembered, accomplished the nomination of Governor Wilson, merely, not his election.

The American Federation of Motorcyclists put itself in accord with public sentiment when it denounced the motor pest who makes a nuisance of himself and his machine by reckless driving, lack of consideration for the rights and comforts of others, and the unnecessary cutting out of the muffler. We hope it will not be content with merely adopting resolutions, but will join with the authorities to make this important sport safe sane and popular with all classes, whether they straddle a motor or not.

A California woman has been nominated for congress, and is said to have a good chance for election. Should she get that far, she will find trouble at Washington in securing a favorable construction of the constitutional provision that "no person shall be a representative who shall not * * * * when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which HE shall be chosen."

A Baltimore sea captain claims to have seen and talked with Captain Smith of the Titanic on the streets of that city last week. We can not tell whether this puts Captain Smith in the class with Charley Ross, the missing Dauphin of France and Archduke Ludwig, until we learn what the Baltimore man had been drinking.

Whatever may be said about Harry Thaw, it must be admitted that he and his opponents have done much to bring to public attention the absurd and vicious character of much of the so-called expert medical testimony. As a result, it will not be long before medical experts will not be employed by contending interests to swear against each other, but will be named by the court to give unbiased professional judgment upon medical questions involved.

George W. Perkins, it transpires, not only contributed liberally to the Roosevelt campaign generally in 1904 but made a "side" contribution of $15,000 to help carry West Virginia. George certainly has invested a lot of money in the "Sage of Oyster Bay," and seems disposed to throw good money after bad. And all to help a man who professes to be the implacable foe of everything that George represents, including the source of the wealth Mr. Perkins disperses in his behalf. Funny, isn't it?

THE MATTER OF A HITCHING GROUND.

Now that the vehicle ordinance is being enforced and not more than one rig is permitted to stand at a post, there is more urgent demand than ever before that Marion should make some provision for a hitching ground. The matter has been given much discussion and some consideration, but little has been done by way of performance.

The time comes to every city when, in the interest of public safety, rigs can not be permitted to be left in all positions along its streets. The passage of the vehicle ordinance indicated that the city fathers are of the opinion that this time has come to Marion. Some cities go further, and insist that rigs must be stabled, but whether Marion has reached the size to justify such a position is open to question. But if she has not; if she does not wish to take this position, it's up to her to make provision for rigs, to provide a city hitching ground, properly policed, where the rigs of visitors may be hitched and anything left therein be in comparative safety.

The subject is one which should be given immediate attention by the city council.

The little hatchet-throwing incident over in England might lead one to conclude that some suffragette over there wants to go the late "Aunt Carrie" Nation one better.

Wonder when Senator Dixon, who managed the disastrous preliminary of Colonel Roosevelt and is to manage his coming so-called campaign, proposes to earn the $7,500 pay he draws from Uncle Sam for supposedly representating Montana in the federal senate.

Richard Harding Davis, long admired as a journalist and writer of fiction, has not been personally popular because of domineering, intolerant traits of character, accented by a bitterly sarcastic tongue. Many criticized the haste with which, immediately after the issue of a decree of divorce to his wife, he contracted another marriage. But much will be forgiven in the light of the "wedding reception" given by himself and his bride, who was Bessie McCoy, a very charming actress and dancer. Without ostentation, they gathered up 500 of the weary mothers and children from the cauldrons of lower New York and transported them to Coney Island for a happy day at the seaside. We would wager none of their appreciative guests had more fun than the host and hostess. Mr. Davis, as "The Littlest One," "Her First Appearance" and others of his tales suggest, has always been a lover of children, and Miss McCoy, to give her the name she has made so well known, has done much work of real philanthropy in a very unobtrusive manner among the poor children of Gotham.

A Cleveland preacher, the Rev. Mr. Tippy, has preached a sermon in which he has given pulpit authority to all the moss-grown jokes and slanders about the mother-in-law. His name suggests a typographical error. It is, or should be, Dippy. We believe that the average mother-in-law is, like the average mother, devoted, self-sacrificing and love-suffering. Usually, the trouble, if it comes, is less due to the desire of the mother-in-law to dominate or prey than to the attempt upon the part of her child or child-in-law, to grow "chesty" and to resent her well-meant and earnest efforts to promote their happiness. It is the mother-in-law, it must be remembered, who makes the grandmother and who will dare to jest about or slander that venerated character?

It is hard to credit the claims of certain magazines to an ambition to bring about the "human uplift" so long as they purvey the literary nastiness of Robert Chambers, Governeur Morris and others of that ilk. One magazine has the effrontery to compare the last-named writer with the late "O. Henry," Sidney Porter, who wrote under that name, portrayed character as he saw it, with rare power, sympathy and humor. But he never wrote an unclean or salacious story.

Up to this time, there has been no general presentation of the proposed constitutional amendments. The men who controlled the "Con. Con." are spending the state's money to urge the ratification of the amendments; they are not publishing anywhere the reasons for opposing any of them given by members who voted against many of them—and a number were adopted by a scant majority vote. It is the idea of the "Con. Con." conspirators that only those who favor some or all of these amendments will go to the polls and that as only a majority of those voting on each proposition is necessary to carry it, there will be no question of success. If only 100,000 votes are cast at the election, but 50,000 less than five per cent. of the vote—less than one per cent. of the population—could make costly and radical changes in our form of government. Vote for or against the amendments as your judgment dictates, but do your duty and vote.

WHERE'S THE REST OF HIM, THEODORE?

THE COLONEL'S BUNK ABOUT SOFT LIVES

Colonel Roosevelt says that Taft and Wilson have lived "soft" lives, meaning thereby, that they have led the sheltered existence of intellectual pursuits, and have not had to come face to face with the sterner conditions of life. Obviously the colonel seeks to convey the impression that he himself had led the other sort of life, had wrestled with the raw elements of civilization and forced his living from the very jaws of destitution. As a matter of fact, he was born rich, with influential relatives and powerful connections. Since he graduated from Harvard,he has been, except for a brief unsuccessful venture into business as a ranchman, an office-seeker and office-holder. All the struggles he has had have been of his own making, for his own advancement or the gratification of his pleasure or variety.

Mr. Taft, too, has never felt the sting of abject poverty. His father was not wealthy, as wealth is counted now-a-days, but he was able to support his family and send them to school. But he never tolerated idleness or "softness" in any of his boys. William H. Taft was sent to Yale, but was required to make a record for scholarship there and to work during vacations. He supported himsel as a reporter while reading law. Since then, he has been lawyer, judge, executive, diplomat, cabinet officer, world traveler, statesman and chief executive, meeting all classes of mankind, solving all sorts of problems, hearing, seeing and discussing every phase of life. Is there anything "soft" about this? He has never "busted a broncho" or played "amateur policeman" in New York to the amusement and disgust of the regulars. These are the only points in which Colonel Roosevelt can claim to have any advantage in point of contact with what he calls the "red-blooded populace."

And Woodrow Wilson! His boyhood passed as the son of an underpaid, over-burdened country preacher. Anything soft about that? Teaching school for a livlihood! Can any one, who has ever taught a term of school—country or city school—consider that a "soft" job? Is there anything soft about meeting and controlling the college youth in his lair? This is all a part of the "bunk," which is the expressive slang term for buncombe, with which the colonel seeks to convey the impression that he alone has lived close to the heart of things, that he alone is in sympathy with the man who toils. He has never felt the pinch of hunger, the despair of homelessness, the desperation of poverty. It is not necessary that he should have done so to have a knowledge of conditions which are plain to every observer. And when he urges such stuff as a logical reason for his own preference he but emphasizes the fraudulent character of his present propaganda. If sympathy and understanding can come only of experience, he is disqualified, for he is no more experienced than the men he assails. As a matter of fact, he, as the foe of peace and the advocate of war, is less qualified in sympathy, in philosophy, in fraternity and civilization than either of the others.

Among the treats saved for the close of the Chautauqua are the concerts of Baker's band. There may be some who do not appreciate this fine organization at its true worth—there are some, always, who are prone to underestimate home talent—but to many the concerts of the band will be among the most pleasing features of the entire course.

A LITTLE CHILD IS HORRIBLY TRAMPLED

Horse Steps on Right Side and Crushes Its Chest.

The little fourteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dowd of two miles east of Kenton was stepped on by a heavy farm horse today and received injuries which are almost sure to be fatal. The whole right side of the little girl's body was crushed in, four bones or more being fractured and internal injuries received.

The other children of the family had gone out in the barn yard and thinking that they had entered the stable the girl went in search of them. The others had gone on by the barn into a field.

No one knows what happened in the barn but it is presumed that the little girl fell as she was passing the horse and the heavy iron shod hoof of the big animal fell on the girl, and that life was not crushed out intsantly seems a miracle.—Kenton Democrat.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR ANNUAL OUTING

Marion Steam Shovel Workers To Go to Olentangy Park.

The Marion Steam Shovel company has arranged for its annual excursion for its employes and their friends. The company has been somewhat handicapped by the recent decision of the Central Passenger association, and the action of the railway companies governed by it, in regard to the running of excursions. The company has, however, found it possible to take an excursion train over the Hocking Valley, and its patrons will enjoy an outing at Olentangy park, in Columbus, August 10.

Officials of the company viewed the scene of the proposed outing several days ago, and the arrangements for the excursion have been completed.

The park management has been notified that a crowd numbering about 1,800 can be expected at the park on the day mentioned.

RACHAEL KAELBAR SEEKING ALIMONY

Files Petition in Common Pleas Court Thursday Afternoon.

After a marriage dating from March 21, 1882, Rachael E. Kaelbar, through her attorneys, Mouser & Molonel, filed a petition for alimony Thursday at 7:30 o'clock, by Rev. in the common pleas court, Thurspetition that they moved to Marion from Waldo three years ago, and that the defendant has been guilty of using intoxicants and has used profane language and made life miserable for the defendant. She also asserts that he has failed to provide clothing for her and asks for temporary alimony pending a suit. She also asks that he be enjoined from disposing of or encumbering his property or from collecting any outstanding notes.

MT. GILEAD DENTISTS HORRIBLY BURNED

By Explosion of Gasoline Tank in Their Workroom.

Dr. Charles A. Ruhlen and his assistant, Dr. G. V. Millard, of Mt. Gilead, were horribly burned late Tuesday afternoon when the gasoline tank in the workroom of their office exploded while they were at work on the machine. Charles Rush, a magazine agent, in the office at the time of the explosion, also received burns about the head and hands. The interior of the room was badly damaged and many of their instruments are a complete loss.

Dr. Millars who stood directly over the tank, using a blow pipe connected with it, when the explosion occurred, received frightful burns about the head, arms, chest and back. His condition is considered very serious by physicians and he may not recover. His hands were torn to shreds by the force of the explosion, while the burns upon his body are so deep that it is fearful that they may cause serious complications.

Dr. Ruhlen, though not so seriously burned as Dr. Millard, is most painfully injured and by no means out of danger from complications. His injuries are about the head, arms and chest.

The deplorable accident occurred at the supper hour, the noise of the explosion attracting the attention of the passers by. Mr. Rush, standing near by when the tank let loose, had the presence of mind to tear down the curtains and wrap them about the injured men, extinguishing the flames on their clothing. An alarm of fire was turned in but the flames were put out with a fire extinguisher.

THE RAILROADS.

Railroad men express the opinion that the Erie will suffer materially through the loss of passengers and freight business between Youngstown and Cleveland when the Lake Erie, Youngstown & Southern, a Vanderbilt road, has been completed. The Erie has no line of its own into Pittsburgh, but reaches Youngstown, where it connects with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, likewise a Vanderbilt road. While it has thus been dependent for its entrance into the heart of the iron and steel district upon the Vanderbilt lines, that disadvantage has been, to a considerable degree, offset by the dependence of the Vanderbilt lines for a direct route from Pittsburgh and Youngstown to Cleveland upon other lines, chiefly the Erie. With the completion of the Lake Erie, Youngstown & Southern a new and direct route between Cleveland and Pittsburgh will be in existence, formed partly by the new construction of the Vanderbilt road in the city of Youngstown, trackage over the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio and the new mileage jointly constructed by the New York Central lines and the Pennsylvania, extending about twenty-seven miles southeast from Cleveland. The final link at the northwest end of the route is the Cleveland Short Line, which is wholly a Vanderbilt property.

The traffic agreement just entered into between the Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio will open up an entirely new field for the Erie, which heretofore has not been able to get into southern territory. Within a week or so, the Erie will have a freight office of its own established in Baltimore and place a corps of solicitors in the field. The Erie will then be in a position to handle traffic between Baltimore and Chicago, which it has never been able to do. Whatever traffic is secured by the Erie representatives in southern territory and routed over the B. & O. will be transferred to the Erie at Youngstown, giving the latter company a haul of some 400 miles between Youngstown and Chicago. In the same way, the Erie can now solicit freight in the Chicago district for delivery at the port of Baltimore. In other words the road will have two eastern ports to which it can deliver freight, New York and Baltimore, instead of New York only as heretofore.

Captain C. E. Rausch, of Meadville, Pennsylvania, and Chief H. H. Millhouse, of New York, of the Erie police, were in the city, Wednesday, and induced Lieutenant William Ellsworth, of this city, to remain on the force. Lieutenant Ellsworth had sent in his resignation, but he has decided to stay.

A license to marry has been issued to James I. DeLong and Priscilla Jenkins Davis.

COMMUNICATION AS TO IMPROVEM

One View of the Proposed Ty tee Creek Dredging.

The following communicat the LaRue News is printe the request of C. L. Anderson, Rue:

Many of the readers of the are aware that a petition is with the commissioners of and Wyandot counties for a county ditch, calling for the ing of Tymochtee creek from run to the Miflin township distance of about nine miles ing the distance in all about miles. Almost two miles route is over solid limestone which would necessarily need blasted at great expense. T ritory proposed to be drained o fitted by this improvement all Wyandot county.

A ditch was formerly gra drain that territory over a and more direct route, all of was in Wyandot county. Th abandoned after being gran cause the cost an acre wou densome. Now some of these are claiming that this route feasible. No record of the and level of this route c found. For the satisfaction o interested in these improvem was decided to have this route surveyed and a level ma following is from the survey port:

Starting at a point at the of a pond on land owned by Weber, in Marseilles townsh running in a westerly direct greater part being in and f an old ditch. This route is less than six miles long to Ty creek, with a fall of twenty-four-tenths feet to the to bank where it enters Ty creek, and a slump of thirt one-half feet to the bed of th making in all a total fall o eight and nine-tenths feet fr to finish."

On this route is what is ca backbone. Reports have through this it would requi of from sixteen to twenty-th The engineer's report of t shows this backbone to be t eight inches higher than the level of the ground just abov the distance across this bac 255 feet. The fall, of cou the starting point to the place is the same over eithe the long route being abou miles long, the shorter ro than six miles in length, bot ning and ending at the san making the fall for each than half as much on the lo as the short route.

The cost of constructing over the long route being at times that of the short route of the nature of the work to the part which is in Tymoch would necessarily all be dredging.

SHERMAN SMITH FILES A DIVORCE PETITION

Charges Wife with Violations of Marital Contract.

PLAINTIFF SAYS HE IS FAITHFUL HUSBAND

Wants Custody of Three Minor Children—County Clerk Receives a Report of Examination of Books and Answers to Questions—Other Common Pleas Court Notes.

Through his attorneys, DeGolley & DeGolley, Sherman Smith filed a petition in the common pleas court, last Friday asking for a divorce from Clara Belle Smith. The petition sets up that the parties to the suit were married, September 21, 1900, and that since that time he has been a true and faithful husband, while she has continually broken her marriage vows by being guilty of gross neglect and consorting with other men. It is charged that she also left home. The plaintiff states in the petition that he took the defendant back, December 25, 1911, but she soon broke her promises and fell into her old habits. He further cites that while he would be at work the plaintiff would allow men to call at the house and take liberties with their daughter, Carrie May, then eight years old. He asks for a divorce and the custody of their three children.

The action brought by William N. Robinson against Samuel Robinson and Minnie Robinson to secure a judgment for $453.49, in the common pleas court, was dismissed Friday, the case being settled out of court.

County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter has received from the state auditor a report of the last examination made of the clerk's books by Harvey .B Sage, one of the state examiners. According to the report, the fees collected and paid into the fee fund from January 1, 1907 to July 23, 1910, were insufficient to pay the salary of the clerk and deputy by $1,-136 97. The clerk was highly complimented for the neatness and style in which his check book was kept.

In answer to questions of the clerk, the state department stated in the report that jurors are not entitled to extra mileage when they go home for Sunday, but that they were entitled to extra mileage when the judge sends the jury home.

Judge W S Ducan was here, Friday, hearing the arguments in the case of the Marion National bank against the City of Marion and others. The case has been in the courts since October 25, 1905, being the outcome of the $2,700 attachment proceeding brought by Herman Blaich against the Clinton Foundry & Machine company, in which Blaich claimed $2,600 was due him from the company for services.

Addie S. Fetter filed a petition in the common pleas court, Saturday, through her attorney, Hoke W. Donithen, for a divorce from Frank J. Fetter.

The petition sets forth that they were married, October 11, 1893, and have two children, Rosa A. Fetter, aged eighteen, and Elton K. Fetter, aged sixteen. The plaintiff accuses the defendant of being habitually addicted to the use of intoxicants, and, when in a state of intoxication, abusive and intolerable. His conduct was such that the daughter was forced to absent herself from home from January to November of last year, and the son was forced to leave home in April, and has since been away, it is alleged She accuses the defendant of having locked her out, the night of May 31, last, and says she had to call the police to gain entrance to her own property For further cause, the plaintiff states that defendant has threatened to kill the members of the family, and has failed to provide for her, having furnished but $4 50 to her support this year.

The plaintiff asks for a divorce, that the defendant be barred from any interest in her property, made to pay her a reasonable alimony, and that he be enjoined from interfering in any way with her and the children. The latter order was granted by Judge W E. Scofield, Saturday morning

In the case of Anna L Holliday, as administratrix, against Philip Malo, in which the plaintiff seeks to secure judgment against the defendant for $492.01, with interest from June 22, 1912, Hoke Donithen, attorney for the defendant, filed a demurrer in the common pleas court, Saturday. It is claimed that the petition does not state facts sufficient to warrant a cause of action.

Through their attorneys, Mouser & Moloney, Samuel Nelson Abel and Charles M. Coonrod, partners in business, filed an answer to the $10,-000 damage proceedings brought against them by Elmer E. Drake, administrator of Morton E. Drake, deceased. Morton E. Drake will be remembered as having sustained injuries in the place of Abel & Coonrod, several months ago, which resulted in his death. The answer sets forth a general denial, and further states that whatever injuries, if any, the deceased received, were due to his own conduct. For this reason the defendants ask that the petition be dismissed and they be allowed to recover their costs.

In the action brought by Albert Messenger against John Hanley, Charles B. Freeman and George Weidemaier as the board of county infirmary directors, to secure a judgment for $160.40, which he claims is due him for board, nursing and other services furnished Omar Stewart, his wife and two children, from April 15, 1911, to May 6, 1911, after the infirmary directors had been given a report of the conditions, Charles L. Justice, attorney for the defendants, filed a motion in the common pleas court, Saturday, asking that exhibit "A" be stricken from the petition because it is improperly attached, and prejudicial to the defendants. He also asks that the petition be made more definite and cerain.

An action to secure a judgment against Walter A. Zieg in the sum of $156 was started in the common pleas court, Friday, by Bertha and William H. Alexander, through Attorneys Mouser & Moloney.

The petition sets up that the plaintiffs signed a note with the defendant, they being sureties for the defendant for a six months loan of $150 from the Farmers' Deposit bank, of Richwood. The money borrowed was for the use of the defendant. When the note fell due this month, they were compelled to make the payment with interest amounting to six dollars.

In the receivership matter of Charles Crock and others against Judson Binding, Judge William E. Scofield appointed Don E. J. Brockett as receiver of the company, Saturday, the bond being fixed at $1,000.

Luella B. Osborne was granted a divorce from Lee C. Osborne by Judge William E. Scofield, this morning, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty.

FULL OF INTEREST ARE EXPERIENCES OF MOORE

Who Returns to Marion After a Long Absence.

TELLS OF LONG TRIP OF ABOUT FOUR YEARS

Goes from Oaxa, Mexico, Far Down into Central America, Where He Marries and Later Engages in the Coffee Business—The Adventures of a Marion Man.

James Moore, a former resident of this city, but now located in San Jose, Costa Rica, in Central America, mention of whom was made in Friday's Star, is meeting many of his former friends in this city at the home of his sister, Mrs. U. K. Guthery, of Pearl street.

Mr. Moore related to the Star, Saturday, a number of his experiences since he left Marion, a little over twenty-two years ago, which were of a most interesting nature.

Mr. Moore has been gone from Marion for thirty-five years, but came back here for a visit twenty-two years ago. Since his last departure, both his mother and father have died, while he also lost a brother last September, but did not receive the news of the death until January.

When he left Marion Mr. Moore went to Mexico, where he worked as a train dispatcher for the Mexican Central railroad. He later entered the employ of the government. As there were no railroad accomdations, except from coast to coast across the country, Mr. Moore was compelled to walk from Oaxa, Mexico, to Central America. He took about four years to make the trip, stopping at various railroad points to work for short periods while enroute.

Mr. Moore was married in Costa Rica, nine years ago, his bride being a handsome and highly educated lady. She accompanied her husband on his visit to this city, it being the first time she was ever out of her native country. She is well pleased with America, and would prefer to live here than in Central America, but as she has acquired the use of but little of the English language, she states that she feels a little like one who is deaf and dumb. She is picking up the English language fluently however. She loves the beautiful yards, which are unknown in her native home.

Mr. Moore spoke of the great change that has come to Marion since his visit here twenty-two years ago, and feels that he would like to return here to spend the later years of his life. He lately gave up his railroading position, and has been devoting his time to a coffee plantation, which he purchased. He has been meeting with much success in his business, and his story of how coffee is raised and treated is of coniderable interest. He also tells of some of the earthquakes that have occurred in the vicinity of his home, but the shocks on the west side of the divide, where he is located, are not so severe as on the east side, seven miles from his home.

The former Marionite is also visiting his brothers, Charles and William Moore, of this city, and before returning home he expects to visit his sister, Mrs. George Hanes, who resides in Colorado. He and his wife will leave Marion about August 1 and after a two weeks' stay in Colorado, will return to their home by way of New Orleans.

JOINED IN MARRIAGE AT HOME OF BRIDE

Miss Ada Hattenbach and Mr. Stanley Hirsch Wed.

Mr. Stanley Hirsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hirsch, formerly of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Ada Hattenbach, of Toledo, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hattenbach, of that city, Thursday afternoon, at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Ferdinand Hirsch, of Bessemer, Alabama, a brother of the groom, in the presence of the immediate families of the young people, and a few intimate friends. The only attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Pauline Hattenbach, and little Miss Harriet Hirsch.

After the wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch left for a two-weeks wedding trip.

WILL MAKE FUTURE HOME NEAR ADELAIDE

Miss Bessie E. Fisher and Mr. Lloyd G. Irey Married.

Miss Bessie Ellen Fisher and Mr. Lloyd G. Irey, both of near Claridon, went to Wood county, Thursday morning and were married that evening, by Rev. Arthur Smithson, a relative of the groom. They returned home, Friday, and took up their residence on a farm near Adelaide.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fisher and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Irey, and are well known in the vicinity in which they reside. Both have many friends who will be pleased to learn of their marriage.

A night telegraph letter service was inaugurated by the British postoffice on June 1, The rate is twelve cents for thirty-six words and one cent for each additional word.

SOME EXCITEMENT AT THE POSTOFFICE

As Result of Running Away of Horse of Rural Carrier.

Some excitement was caused at the postoffice about 7:30 Saturday morning by the running away of the horse belonging to Aaron Gourlich, a rural carrier. Gourlich was turning from High street into the alley which goes back of the postoffice, when his horse stumbled and broke the rein. In recovering itself it lost its bridle. Gourlich jumped out of the buggy, as did also the old man who was riding with him, and tried to get to the horse's head, but the horse sprang away. When he turned into the court back of the postoffice, where the carriers hitch their horses, the buggy overturned, and the horse, wild with fright, jumped over the embankment and into State street. There he broke loose from the buggy, and turned into Church street, being finally caught by the workmen at the new building which is being erected on the corner of Main and Church streets The buggy was broken up, but the horse uninjured from his high jump.

DOWLER BROTHERS TO OCCUPY PETERS ROOM

The Peters Piano Business Sold to Bellefontaine Man.

William and Jesse Dowler will move their music store, now located on east Church street, into the room occupied by the Peters' Music store on north State street, August 1. As soon as the Peters' company, which has sold its business, vacates the room, a number of changes will be made and the Dowler brothers will enter business on a much larger scale than heretofore.

The Peters' stock, together with the Peters' piano truck, has been sold to Charles S Hockett, a Bellefontaine piano dealer. Whether the latter will retail the stock in Marion or add it to his Bellefontaine stock he is said not yet to have fully determined.

The fact that Mr. John K Peters is a candidate for county auditor and wishes to devote more time to the campaign than he could take from his business, impelled him to make the sale.

MADE MANAGER OF LIMA STORE

R. G. Prettyman Receives a Well-Deserved Promotion.

R. G. Prettyman will leave, Monday, for Lima, where he will take the management of the R. G. Hopkins store at that place. For the past thirty months, he has been serving as the collector for the local Hopkins store, and the promotion, which carries with it a fine increase in salary, is a well-deserved tribute to his worth and faithfulness. He has been a resident of this city for the past seventeen years, and during that time has made many friends who will regret his going while at the same time will be pleased over his advancement.

Mr. Prettyman's family will leave for Lima in about three weeks.

VIOLATORS OF VEHICLE ORDINANCE ARRESTED

First Men To Appear Before Mayor Walters.

Health Officer Dr. D. O. Weeks, William Roecker, Benjamin Walters and Jacob Reigler were the first men arrested for violating the city's new vehicle ordinance, which was passed several weeks ago. There were numerous violations of the ordinance, Saturday, when it was announced that violators would be arrested, but as the violators were country people who were not informed as to the new law, they were instructed, and allowed to go free.

For the parties arrested there was no excuse for them not being informed as to the ordinance. Health Officer Weeks was arrested by Officer Cusick for cutting the corner at the intersection of State and Church streets. The other three violators of the ordinance ignored section No. 11, Roecker leaving his automobile standing in the wrong direction in front of the curb, while the other two hitched their horses in the wrong direction.

WILLIAM H. FOSTER DIES LAST SATURDAY

Death Is Due to an Injury Received Some Time Ago.

THE PASSING OF A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN

Mr. Foster Leaves a Widow and Five Children—Is Known Throughout Country as a Horseman and Is Held in High Regard by a Wide Acquaintance.

William H. Foster, one of the best-known citizens of Marion and known generally by horsemen over the entire country, died at his home, No. 319, south Main street, shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday morning, following a confinement of almost seven weeks as a result of an injury.

William H. Foster, who for years has been engaged in the livery business, was injured by a horse, June 3, the injury affecting his spine and causing paralysis of the lower extremities. His death was due to slow paralysis, but little hope having been entertained for his recovery from the time of the accident.

William H. Foster was a son of William H. and Rachael Foster and was born in this city, February 11, 1861, being fifty-one years, five months and nine days of age, at the time of his death. He was married August 18, 1886, to Miss Ettie Postle, a resident of this county. his wife being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Postle. To this union five children were born, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. Alfred Schrashun, of Detroit; Frank Edgar, Gertrude and Eileen Foster, all of whom reside at home.

The deceased entered the horse business when very young, his first dealings being in the buying and selling of horses. He was soon considered one of the best judges of horses and established a reputation growing business he entered the livery business. His experience made him a successful busines man. He developed a number of good horses and established a reputation with some of the greatest horsemen of the country tor being square in his dealings, and being thoroughly acquainted with the business.

While Mr. Foster's dealings were of such a nature as to make him liked by all with whom he had transactions, he was equally as well liked by all who met him. He was of a jovial, kind and loving disposition, and was always ready to give encouragement to those who met misfortune. At home, he was a loving husband, and one of his greatest pleasures after his business was finished, was to be surrounded by the members of his family. The deceased was a member of the Royal Arcanum and of the Order of Foresters.

Mr. Foster's condition during his confinement was pitiful, but he never lost hope, and always had words of cheer tor his family and friends who called to see him. During the past few days, he was unconscious mos. of the time, and was in this state when the end came. Aside from his widow and children, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Caroline Bell, of this city, and Mrs. C. E. Baird, of Toledo.

The funeral was held from the late residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev G. M. Rourke, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating Burial was made in the Marion cemetery.

Charles Bender Hurt.

He's a wise man who can compel his mistakes to pay his board and room rent.

FINDS PLEASURE IN MOVING ABOUT

Mrs. Sherman Willey Says Husband Moves Once a Year.

Alleging, among other things, that her husband was of a roving, discontented disposition, and that during their married life they lived in Marysfield, Irwin, Mechanicsburg, Springfield, Milford Center, Osburn, Midland, Cincinnati, Hamilton and West Liberty, Mrs. Winifred M. Wiley filed suit Thursday for divorce from her husband, Sherman Willey, in the common pleas court at Marysville.

Mrs. Willey, who at present resides in Irwin, sets forth in her petition that she was married to defendant in 1899 and that they have two children, Helen, age nine, and James, age five. She states that at no time during their twelve years of wedded life, did the husband provide her with sufficient food and clothing, and that she was compelled to work in order to keep up the household expenses.

In addition to being an excessive drinker, Mrs. Willey alleges that in March, 1912, while she was conducting a boarding-house in Irwin, her husband collected all the money due from the boarders, skipped out and has not been seen since.

The plaintiff prays that she be granted a divorce, the custody of the children and that she be restored to her maiden name of Winifred McClurg.

Richwood, O., July 25.—[Special.]—The taxes for Washington, Jackson, York and Claiborne townships were collected by the First National bank at Richwood during the two weeks from July 8 to July 20, inclusive. For the June collection the total, $26,321.34, is considered quite large. The largest collection for any one day, $4,268.79, was made on the 16th, and the smallest amount, $1,280.15, was collected on the 9th. Taxes were paid promptly this year, which speaks well for the prosperity of northern Union county.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Conkright and son, William, of Columbus, are visiting Mr. Conkright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Conkright.

Mrs. A. P. Jones and daughter, Gladys, of Bellefontaine, are the guests of Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Ackerman.

I. S. Zuspan and Max Embrey left, Saturday, for Russell's Point, on the Lewistown reservoir, where they are enjoying a week's outing. They were joined, Sunday, by J. Blaine Harris and Ralph Peet, who spent the day with them.

Miss Kathryn Keigley, of London, has been the guest of her brother, O. A. Keigley, and wife, during the past few days.

Mrs. Lawrence Carr, of Cleveland, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Carr.

Mrs. Clyde Hildreth and little daughter, Doris, of Magnetic Springs, spent Tuesday as the guests of Jesse Dean and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McAllister left, Saturday, for St. Louis, where they will make their future home. Mr. McAllister disposed of his interest in the Richwood Clay Manufacturing company recently, and now has an option on a similar plant near St. Louis. Mrs. McAllister's mother, Mrs. Mary Langstaff, expects to join her children in St. Louis as soon as she has settled up business affairs at Richwood.

A. P. Hassinger left, Monday, for Denver, where he expects to spend some time, hoping to benefit his health in that climate.

Miss Bernice Brodrick, of Lancaster, is spending a few days as the guest of her uncle, J. E. Howe, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Godman and son, Ralph, of West Mansfield, were the guests, Sunday, of Mrs. Elizabeth Haines.

Mrs. J. B. McAllister, who left Saturday for her new home in St. Louis, Missouri, was very pleasantly surprised, Thursday evening, when the members of the Young Married People's Embroidery club, of which she is a member, gathered at her home on south Franklin street, to spend the evening with her. The hours were passed very delightfully, and refreshments were served. As a slight token of their regard for their hostess, the club members presented her a beautiful pair of silver embroidery scissors. Friday evening, the members of the Alpha Philathea Sunday-school class of the M. E. church, were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. J. Miller, the affair being a farewell reception for Mrs McAllister. An informal program was rendered and refreshments served. The class presented Mrs. McAllister a beautiful silver mesh purse.

SENATORS TAKE UP THE TARIFF

A Three-Day Battle Over the Schedule Opens.

FIGHT MUST CEASE BY SATURDAY NIGHT

Number of Amendments Will Be Presented.

Iowa Senator Introduces Substitute, in Which Figures Given by Taft's Tarift Board on Woolens Are Taken as Working Basis—Sugar Schedule Will Be Threshed Out at Democratic Caucus Tomorrow.

Washington, July 25.—Senators today took up the three-days' program of tariff agitation which was mapped out On the Republican side of the senate only a partial line of action has been agreed upon, and the Democrats are somewhat at sea as to their program.

Before the end of Saturday's session the senate will act upon the wool tariff, the sugar tariff and the Democratic excise bill, which would extend the present corporation tax to business done by individuals and copartnerships.

A Canadian reciprocity and wood pulp tariff amendment will be offered by Senator Gronna of North Dakota. It provides for the repeal of the Canadian reciprocity law and for a reduction by one-half of the Payne-Aldrich rates on wood pulp and print paper. Senator Gronna declared he would offer his amendment as a substitute to each of the tariff bills in the hope that it would be adopted and passed on some one of them.

Both the Republican and Democratic forces are divided over the embarrassing questions that the tariff program presents. The break in the Republican ranks came as the result of the introduction by Senator Cummins of a substitute wool tariff bill, based on the figures given by the tariff board in its report on the woolen industry.

Cummins Breaks Bounds.

The action of Senator Cummins was not in accord with the understanding regular Republicans had of the plan to be followed today. Leading Republican members of the finance committee held an informal conference to determine whether a third bill, representing their views, should be introduced today. No agreement was reached, however, as to the possible introduction of a bill that has been prepared by Senator Smoot

The Democratic leaders called a party caucus to meet tomorrow. The purpose of the caucus, it is understood, is to adjust conflicting views on the sugar tariff and attempt to meet the views of Democrats who object to the free sugar bill passed by the house Several Democrats have expressed the opinion that to indorse the house bill would affect the political situation in western states where beet sugar interests are an important factor in industrial development.

Senator Borah introduced as a substitute for the excise tax bill a complete income tax law. It is the same measure he offered when the Payne-Aldrich tariff was under discussion and was then defeated. Senator Clapp also offered an amendment to the excise bill, striking out of the present corporation tax law the provision exempting corporations from paying tax on incomes derived from other corporations that have already been taxed

SECRETARY KNOX BACK AT HIS DESK

He Will Take Up Fall's Sensational Mexican Charges.

Washington, July 25.—Secretary of State Knox, who returned to his office from a trip to his summer home at Valley Forge, Pa., at once took up the matter of the sensational attack on the state department and the Mexican government made by Senator Fall of New Mexico on Monday. Mr Knox declined to discuss the attack but will probably draft an answer to the charges, which will be issued within a few days.

State department officials confirm a statement issued by the Mexican foreign minister, in which he says that the Mexican government has adjudicated a number of the claims of American citizens growing out of firing across the border at El Paso, Tex., and Douglas, Ariz. The attitude of the Mexican government in considering the claims has been satisfactory from the state department's point of view.

Columbus, O., July 25.—Democratic National Committeeman Edward H. Moore, who managed Governor Harmon's campaign for the presidential nomination, started in to raise $75,000, if possible, for Woodrow Wilson's campaign fund.

Moore's plan is to ask the Democratic and independent newspapers of Ohio to accept subscriptions of $1 or more from voters who are in sympathy with Wilson.

Moore said he had received a letter from National Committeeman Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, who is to supervise the publicity end of the Wilson campaign, asking him to get in touch immediately with the Democratic and independent press of Ohio. GOMPERS BITTER AGAINST WRIGHT

Attack Grows Out of Sentencing of Labor Leaders.

Washington, July 25.—In bitter phrases culminating in a diatribe against Judge Daniel Thew Wright, President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, today had his say in reference to the jurist's recent sentencing of Compers, Mitchell and Morrison for contempt of court in the Bucks Stove & Range company injunction case.

In a signed editorial in the current issue of the American Federationist, Gompers declared "Judge Wright discloses the mental attitude of a bygone age when the masters owned the workmen who were their slaves or serfs, and the masters had some form of property or property right in his slave or serf."

LARGER NAVY IS GIVEN SETBACK

House Democrats Veto Battleship Program.

CAUCUS HELD AND MATTER GONE OVER

Program Is Declared Against Pledge of Platform.

Floor Leader Underwood Attends Meeting, but Is Not Given Chance To Speak on Tennessee Man's Motion To Include One Battleship. The Passage of Entire Naval Bill Is Menaced.

Washington, July 25.—All hope of the navy for obtaining even one battleship from the present session of congress was apparently destroyed when the Democrats of the house again went on record as opposed to any additions to the battleship fleet.

This unexpected action of the house Democrats was taken in opposition to the wishes of Leader Underwood, and also, it is understood, in opposition to the desire of Woodrow Wilson. By several Democratic leaders it is contended even that the action by the senate was a violation of the plan adopted at Baltimore, which pledges the party to provide for "an adequate navy" for national defense.

Considerable comment was caused by the fact that Speaker Clark voted in the caucus against any addition to the battleship fleet. The caucus was the third that the Democrats have held on this subject, and in each instance they have voted against appropriations for any additions to the navy.

The question of public buildings figures in the vote, as it has figured in the two previous votes by the Democrats.

Only a bare majority of the house Democrats were present at the caucus. The fight against the battleship program was led by Representative Burnett of Alabama, who has insisted from the beginning that not a dollar should be allowed for battleships unless $2,000,000 or more was provided for public buildings.

Wanted Pledges Released.

A resolution authorizing one battleship was offered by Representative Padgett of Tennessee, chairman of the house naval committee. It was defeated by a vote of 70 to 62. Previously Representatives Sulzer of New York and Broussard of Louisiana had presented resolutions releasing Democrats from their former caucus pledge against battleships.

Leader Underwood entered the caucus determined to speak in support of the Padgett resolution. Representative Burleson of Texas, who is opposed to battleships, was in the chair. Mr. Padgett introduced his resolution and he and Mr. Underwood were waiting to be heard in its support. Mr. Burnett arose and was recognized at once He moved to table all pending actions. This motion shut off all debate. The question then was on the Burnett resolution which provided that no appropriation should be authorized. It was passed by a slim majority.

The passage of the entire naval bill is therefore menaced as a result of the caucus action.

FIRE CAUSES AN IRREPARABLE LOSS

Records of Tests Burned at Homestead Steel Plant.

Pittsburgh, July 25.—Fire broke out at 5 a. m. today in the Physical testing laboratory of the Homestead steel works and completely destroyed the building with all its records and testing machinery and instruments. The loss is $100,000. All of the government inspectors' records of tests of ordnance and steam were destroyed, as were all the records of the steel company for that department.

The fire was started by the short circuiting of electric wires in the basement and spread rapidly

The destroyed records of the government and steel company will cause an irreparable loss as they can not be replaced.

BOARD OF CONTROL WILL READVERTISE

All Bids for Street Paving Contracts Are Rejected.

At a meeting of the board of control, Wednesday evening, all of the bids for the paving of south Seffner avenue and Blaine avenue were rejected, and it was decided to readvertise for bids. The Mayer Brothers' Asphalt Paving company were the lowest bidders for the work, but in the specifications it was omitted that the gutters of the streets were to be of brick. As a result of this omission and the fact that the property-owners of the streets are desirous of having brick gutters, it was decided to readvertise the jobs, which will cause a delay of two weeks.

Walker, who pitched for Delaware, allowed but six scattered hits His support was loose and five errors back of him caused his downfall. th street about the time of the murder. Harry Signal, one of Vallon's employes, and Signal's wife testified to this. But Beebe has voluntarily told the district attorney that he saw Vallon at the Metropole within ten minutes of the murder.

Coroner's Hearing Is On.

New York, July 25.—With police guarding every doorway, the hearing of suspects in the Rosenthal murder case went on today before Coroner Feinberg. Extreme precautions were taken to prevent any attack on the court with the aim of freeing the prisoners.

Jacob Rose, charged to have been the manager for the murder of Rosenthal, who was assassinated just before he was due to supply proof of police corruption, was the first witness called before the coroner, but awaiting their turn were Louis Libby and William Shapiro, the two chauffeurs who owned the "murder" automobile, and who confessed they were hired by Rose on the night of the murder They faced a tense situation before the coroner to whose session District Attorney Whitman came with the assurance of John Reissler, alias "John the Barber," that he would brush up his fear-dimmed memory and tell the truth about how and where he saw persons at the scene of the murder. In addition, the district attorney had a witness ready to shatter the alibi of one of the men and thus make a collateral bit of proof against several of the defendants

While this hearing was going on a dozen gamblers, men who had paid tribute to the police for many years, were called to testify and furnish the district attorney with proof of police corruption

Not only are these men expected to tell how and when tribute was paid to the police, but also to say what bigger men among the political set had a hand in directing the affairs of the underworld.

May Be Wanted Man.

Fitchburg, Mass., July 25.—The New York police were in teelphonic communication today with the authorities here seeking some new clew that will enable them to apprehend Harry Horowitz, wanted for complicity in the murder of Herman Rosenthal The most recent discovery in the case is that Horowitz spent the night in the barn of Orlando Bickford, off Main street, and while there displayed a forty-eight-caliber revolver to one of the stable hands. Persons who saw Horowitz have repeatedly declared he is the man whose picture has been published at the man wanted in New York. The local police have traced him back to New York, where he is known to have been as late as Tuesday.

Benjamin Bartholomew, a stable hand, talked with Horowitz Thursday morning and Horowitz displayed a big revolver.

Horowitz had only fifty cents. He left here planning to beat his way back to New York and make a new attempt to get to the Canada line, where he told Bartholomew he was bound for.

Paul Quits His Fight.

New York, July 25.—Sam Paul, the gang leader, charged with participating in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, today abandoned his efforts to secure his liberty under habeas corpus proceedings. The writ, which he has secured, was withdrawn by Attorney Wahle before Justice Giegerich.

TWELVE KILLED IN EVANS MINE

Bodies May Not Be Recovered for Months.

PITIFUL SCENES ABOUT THE PIT

Wives of Dead Hamper Work of Rescuers.

Three Men See Approaching Torrent from Bursted Reservoir and Dash into Shaft To Warn Miners, All of Whom, Except a Dozen, Reach Entrance Before the Mouth of Mine Is Closed.

Evans Station, Pa., July 25 —When Evans mine No. 2 of the Suberba Coal company was flooded, 12 miners lost their lives.

When the water from the leaking Cool Spring reservoir came rushing down the mountainside 64 men were in the mine. The water was seen going in the main way of the mine by William Genear, the pit boss; Solomon Wilson, a machinist, and Joe Fordyce, who were outside the mine. They rushed in the mine and passed the warning along that the mine was being flooded. The 12 who perished were 4,000 feet back in the mine, in what is known as the "sump," and the word either failed to reach them or they did not heed the warning.

Big Hole Carved Out.

The water rushed into the mine with such force through the main way that a hole 75 feet in diameter was carved out.

The wives and families of the miners in the mine gathered at the mine opening and, picking out pieces of wood, stones and everything that they could carry, threw them into the waters rushing into the narrow manway. The rubbish, which was intended to keep the water from getting into the mine, hindered the miners who were rushing to the outside for safety. The men were compelled to wade through water up to their necks.

Officials of the mine say it will be 60 days before the water can be gotten out of the mine so that the bodies can be reached.

Every mine in the district was flooded, and it is reported that three men were drowned in Lamont mine No. 1, a half mile from the Evans mine.

The dead men are: Andy Valpo, John Rosco, Michael Smith, J. R. Gallery, Adam Smith, William Mosburg, Andy Bollock, Michael Fellsh, Frank Layoff, John Kubizena, Andy Doliczy and Russel Gardner.

NEW SYSTEM OF WIRELESS REPORTED

By It, It Will Be Possible To Send Pictures.

London, July 25.—Wireless messages will be sent across the Atlantic and to other parts of the world by a new system, according to experts, within four months, not only much faster than by the present system, but also with such precision that it will be possible to send pictures by this means.

The new system has been taken up by one of the big European telegraph companies, and will be given a thorough test by a syndicate organized under the auspices of the telegraph company so far as the transmission of wireless messages is concerned.

Stations are to be erected at Lyons, in France, and at Washington, and the inventor claims that he will be able to send at the rate of 200 words a minute.

The improvement consists in being able to control a continuous wave, as compared with intermittent waves by the present systems.

After the France-American line is working, the company intends to extend the system to the East, to Africa and to the British colonies. The British government has investigaed it, but is apparently satisfied, as it has been in all recent inventions, to let some other nation test it before adopting it.

GRACE DECLARAS WIFE IS GUILTY

Says Wife Will Confess When Confronted in Court-Room.

Atlanta, Ga., July 25.—"When I look my wife in the face in the courtroom next Monday," said Eugene Grace, "she will not be able to lie about me. She will have to tell the truth about drugging and shooting me. She's as guilty as hell, and she knows it."

Grace lay on a cot in his mother's home at Newman, Ga., and bitterly denounced his wife, formerly Mrs Daisy Opie of Philadelphia, whose trial is to begin in Atlanta next Monday.

"I've been here nearly four months flat on my back, not able to move anything but my arms, my head and my shoulders. My wife put me here. If I were going to die this minute, I'd swear she shot me. I'd swear she did it cold-bloodedly for my money and left me as I am. I want to tell the jury how she shot me and left me to die. I could convince any jury that she shot me, and if I was looking her in the face she'd have to admit that she did it."

ROGERS WANTS JUROR BARRED

Darrow's Lawyer Appears To Be Worried.

JUDGE TAKES A HAND IN CASE

Refuses To Grant Request of Defense.

Attorney Rogers Declares That Juror Leavitt Is Prejudiced and That He Expresses View Before Trial That Darrow and Other Lawyers in McNamara Case Know the Brothers Are Guilty.

Los Angeles, July 25.—Judge George H Hutton ruled just before adjournment for the noon recess that the law does not permit the court to interrupt the Darrow bribery trial for an investigation of the alleged former prejudice and belief on the part of Juror Leavitt that the defendant was guilty. He denied the application of the defense for such investigation, and declared his conviction that from what he had seen of the juror, even if Leavitt had such prejudices, he could put it aside and render a verdict in accordance with the law and the evidence.

Defense Is Aroused.

Los Angeles, July 25.—The Darrow defense made a determined assault today on Juror L. A. Leavitt, demanding that the court excuse him if necessary on the ground of ill-health and replace him with the thirteenth juror, A. M. Blakesley.

Earl Rogers, chief counsel for Darrow, declared Leavitt went on the jury declaring he had no prejudice and now the defense learns for the first time that he had frequently stated his belief that Darrow was guilty. This request was made in the absence of the jury. Leavitt arrived from his home at El Monte in charge of a deputy sheriff during the argument of Rogers.

"Juror Leavitt is in court ready to proceed with the trial," said Judge Hutton, "and I can not excuse him for ill-health and put the alternate juror in his place.

Court Is Emphatic.

"I do not see any warrant in law for halting the trial at this time, in the midst of the evidence, nearing its close, to examine into the qualifications of the juror I'll hear authorities if you have any on that question."

"I offer to prove to make the record," said Rogers, "that immediately after the McNamara trial Juror Leavitt said to Jefferson Steele:

" 'They would have hung Haywood and Moyer if that scamp, Darrow, had not bought the jury. Harriman and all those attorneys knew the McNamaras were guilty and they all ought to be hanged along with the McNamaras.'

"We offer to show, too, that he frequently expressed himself as bitterly opposed to Darrow and to union labor, and to show further his answers as to his qualifications for juror were not true."

HAS NO FAITH IN ROOSEVELT

Nor in the Progressiveness for Which He Stands.

BRYAN EXPRESSES OPINIONS FREELY

Scores Colonel for His Conduct in Chicago.

Roosevelt Could Have Nominated Any One of a Number of Progressives, So Why Did He Not Stand Aside, Asks Commoner—Declares Dix, of New York, Should Stand Aside Now.

Lincoln, Neb., July 25.—William J Bryan has no faith in the progressiveness of Theodore Roosevelt. In a Commoner editorial today the Bull Moose leader is described as a "reactionary who is not worthy of the support either of the Democrats or Progressive Republicans. In part Bryan says:

"Can Roosevelt lead the Progressive Republicans to the extreme that he represents? Did he not show by his conduct at Chicago that he is more interested in obtaining the office for himself than advancing reform? He could have nominated any one of a number of progressives. Why did he refuse to stand aside? Is there no other person big enough for such a swollen presidency as he would create?"

Governor Dix, of New York, is a failure and should step aside and make way for the nomination of a real Democrat, according to another Bryan editorial.

Dix Should Quit.

"New York Democrats are demanding the nomination for governor of a man who may be depended upon to hold himself free from the influences of Murphyism," says the editorial. "Surely the New York Democrats will appreciate the importance of putting its best foot foremost when it comes to the selection in this progressive year of 1912 of a Democratic candidate for governor. There are many Democrats in New York, who would fill this bill.

"Governor Dix would better stand aside for the benefit of his party and his state, for Dix is a failure."

ALFRED KORTE MUST ANSWER TO A CHARGE

Carl Mitchell Says Korte Violates Vehicle Ordinance.

FILES AN AFFIDAVIT IN MAYOR'S COURT

Michael Shea Is Arrested and Held for Failure To Keep Promise To Pay a Back Fine—T. J. Lucas Is Fined for Not Turning a Corner Properly—Police Notes.

Carl Mitchell filed an affidavit in the mayor's court, Wednesday afternoon, charging Alfred Korte with driving his automobile on the wrong side of the street. According to Mitchell, Korte had his automobile headed east on the north side of west Center street. He started his auto as Mitchell was riding west, and a collision resulted, Mitchell's wheel being badly broken. A warrant for Korte's arrest was issued, and he has been ordered to appear before the mayor to answer to the charge.

Michael Shea was arrested, Wednesday night, by Officer McColly and locked in the city prison for failing to keep his promise and pay a back fine. The mayor refused to release Shea, Thursday, and his father started out to try and raise the money to secure his release. Unless Shea makes a settlement, he will probably be sent to the workhouse.

T. J. Lucas was before Mayor Walters, Wednesday evening, to answer to an affidavit charging him with violating the vehicle ordinance by not turning a corner in the proper manner. The offense was commited by Lucas last week. Lucas remembered the circumstances, and on entering a plea of guilty was fined five dollars.

Captain Bond and Officers McColly and Shrock left, about 1 o'clock, Thursday morninfi, on an auto trip to the Lewistown reservoir to spend the day with Officer Babcock and family who are taking a vacation at that place.

Mayor Walters received a mandate from the circuit court, Thursday, in the case of Joseph W. Harris against the State of Ohio, on appeal, for the collection of a fine of $200 and costs, amounting to $27 66. Harris was arrested under the term of Mayor Selter for keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold on July 11, 1911. He was found guilty in the mayor's court and fined $200 and costs. The mayor's decision was affirmed in the common pleas and circuit courts, and as the four months' time to carry the case to the supreme court has elapsed, the mandate was returned to Mayor Walters.

IS SHOT IN RAID ON A KEG PARTY

An Ashland Tinner Possibly Fatally Wounded by Officer.

Ashland which is supposed to be dry, because it was voted dry several years ago, had what bids fair to be a tragedy Tuesday night as the result of the attempt to compel dryness. Cloyd Ebert, a young laboring man of that town, was shot by Policeman Tod Spreng during a raid on a keg party near the cemetery. Ashland is considerably wrought up over the matter and the policeman who did the shooting was locked up in the county jail over night.

The turning of the flash light on the men encircling the keg caused all to take to their heels like criminals. Two, men, however, were stopped, one by each policeman. Officer Wood seized a young man named Edgar Reap and Officer Spreng nabbed Cloyd Ebert. Young Ebert jerked away from Spreng and ran away at the top of his speed. Spreng pulled his revolver and fired three shots "to frighten the escaping man." Immediately after the firing of the third shot young Ebert was heard calling for help at the top of his voice a few dozen yards away. The policemen went in the direction of the yelling and found Ebert lying in a sort of depression in the ground. He was able to talk and stated that he had been shot by the officer who fired. Officer Spreng said he couldn't see how that could be as "he had shot high and merely to frighten him."

Investigation showed that Ebert had been shot through the back. The ball entered his body just beneath his shoulder and struck his spine. This paralyzed his legs so that he was unable to help himself.

THE AUDITOR OF STATE RENDERS AN OPINION

All Peddlers in Rural Sections Must Have Licenses.

According to an opinion received from the office of the auditor of state, all peddlers, in the rural section, including those merchants who run wagons in the country during the summer months, must have a license, says the Fostoria Times.

The question came up when complaint was lodged with the Seneca county auditor that certain proprietors of stores in the hamlets and villages were conducting business by means of wagons which visit the various farms for the purpose of selling their wares. When these were called in they contended that they are not required to pay the license for the reason that they were simply carrying the merchandise to their customers as an accommodation. In order to settle the question, Auditor Lennartz wrote to the auditor of state for a ruling and received the following reply:

"Replying to yours of July 12, beg to advise that I see no way by which the parties to whom you refer can avoid taking out what is known as peddlers' license and paying the fee provided for the same. The statutes are very clear and do not exempt from the application of this license parties who may be engaged in the regular merchandise business. However, having made their proper return to the assessor, they would not be required to make the additional report required of transient traders or peddlers, but would be no less peddlers in the true sense of the law, because of the fact of their being regularly established merchants."

The annual license for a wagon drawn by two horses is $28, for a wagon with one horse, $14.

STORM DOES DAMAGE IN CITY AND COUNTY

An Electrical Storm To Be Long Remembered.

MANY BUILDINGS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Stock Killed in Barns and Fields. The Rain Falls in Torrents—The Crops Suffer—The Storm Is General and Damage Is Not Confined to Certain Sections.

A terrific electrical storm passed over Marion county, Wednesday afternoon, doing considerable damage in the northern part of the county. Several barns were struck and some livestock was killed. There was very little wind, most of the damage being done by lightning. The rainfall was very heavy, that of Wednesday afternoon being .60 of an inch. Another heavy rain fell about 9 o'clock in the evening, and, although the electrical storm was not so severe as that of the afternoon, the rainfall was .75 of an inch, and that of Tuesday was .20 of an inch, making a total rainfall in the past two days of 1.55 inches.

Damage in Country.

After the rain of early Wednesday morning, the sky cleared and the sun came out brightly, but before the morning was over the heat had become intense. The atmosphere became so sultry that the approach of a storm was looked for with anxiety. About 3 o'clock, great black clauds gathered in the sky, the lightning flashed and heavy peals of thunder shook the earth People on the streets and in the fields quickly sought shelter, and in a few minutes the rain came down in torrents, continuing for over a half hour. After the rain, the sun came out warm and bright, bringing another shower shortly afterwards. The evening was sultry, and about 9 o'clock another heavy storm drenched the city and surrounding vicinity

Most of the damage was in the rural districts.

A large barn on the farm of Frank Reber, northwest of Marion, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed by fire during the storm, Wednesday afternoon. The barn contained about sixty tons of hay, 200 bushels of shelled corn and fifty bushels of oats. A few implements and some lumber stored in the barn were also destroyed. The barn and contents were partially covered by insurance. The loss on the building will probably amount to $1,000, with $650 insurance. The loss on the building and contents over and above the insurance will be about $500.

Harvey Barn Burned.

The barn on the farm of P. G. Harvey, three miles northeast of Marion, was struck by lightning during Wednesday afternoon's storm and was totally destroyed, as was also an adjoining granary, which caught fire from the barn. About thirty tons of hay and between 500 and 600 bushels of corn belonging to Frank A. Showers, who resides on the farm, were burned. A wagonload of hay, which had just been taken into the barn, was also destroyed. Philip and Roy Showers were in the barn at the time, but escaped without injury. The building and contents were partially covered by insurance. Lightning struck a tree about fifty yards away, about five minutes before the barn was struck.

The residence of W. E. Messenger, a quarter of a mile from the Showers home, was also struck, a number of bricks being knocked from the chimney.

Two sheep on the farm of D. H. and J. C Harvey, four miles north of Marion, were killed by lightning, Wednesday afternoon.

Very Heavy Loss.

Joseph Harris, who is a joint proprietor of a store at Wyandot, and who runs a huckster wagon through that territory, drove into the barn of Mrs. A. B. Hite about two miles north of Brush Ridge, during the storm, Wednesday afternoon. He had just left the barn when the barn was struck by lightning and almost totally destroyed The huckster wagon was burned and the two horses killed. The sum of $135 in money was in the wagon with a book account. All of the contents were destroyed and Mr. Harris estimates his loss at about $1,300. The barn of Mrs. Hite contained considerable farm materials, and all was totally destroyed.

During the storm, Wednesday afternoon, a barn on the farm of Fred Gilbert, two miles east of Morral, was struck by lightning, and two horses were killed. Two other horses were also in the structure. Mr. Gilbert and the hired man were in the barn at the time, but received only slight shocks. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Brown Residence Struck.

The residence of A. L. Brown, five miles northeast of Morral, was struck by lightning, Wednesday afternoon. Aside from a number of slate being torn from the roof, no damage was done, except by water. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were in Marion attending the Chautauqua at the time.

A cow owned by S. W. Gruber, of east of the city, was struck by lightning and killed, Wednesday afternoon.

The granary of the farm of Mrs. Christina Vasserbeck near Mt. Olive church in Bowling Green township, was struck by lightning during the storm early Wednesday morning. The damage was only slight.

It is alleged that Hamilton's chauffeur failed to give Perfect a reasonable portion of the road, forcing him into the grassy roadside, where the car skidded and turned a flip-flop. Mrs. Perfect was in the car with her husband, but was not seriously injured. The machine went to a repair shop, and Mr. Perfect went to a doctor, suffering from a badly sprained knee.

REASONS FOR DELAY IN MAIL DELIVERY

People Are Not Careful in Writing the Addresses.

There has been some complaint, lately, to the rural and city carriers, about the tardiness with which some of the mail has been delivered. The carriers say that the reason is because the addresses are not on the mail, and that the trouble could be avoided by the people giving their full addresses to their correspondents.

When there is no address on the mail, it has to go through the hands of every carrier, both rural and city, until it comes to the right one, and often then it can not be determined where a letter should go until some time has elapsed.

WOULD REVISE SHERMAN LAW

Majority Report of the Stanley Committee Made.

DECLARED TO BE A DRASTIC MEASURE

Many Changes Are Proposed by the Committee.

One Section of Report Gives to Individual Right To Institute Proceedings Against Alleged Illegal Combinations in Restraint of Trade. Trust Matters Are Taken Up in Full—The Report.

Washington, July 23.—Radical beyond description are the legislative recommendations of the majority members of the Stanley steel probe committee, which have been completed

Some of the most far-reaching changes in the Sherman anti-trust law that have ever been laid before congress are proposed, and the program is particularly interesting in view of the fact that Woodrow Wilson is understood to have given them his approval

Individuals Given Chance.

The bill offered by the Stanley committee proposes that individuals shall have the power to bring suits in equity for an injunction under the Sherman anti-trust law, and that they also shall have the power to intervene in any suit brought by the government under this act.

The bill also proposes that the burden of proof in regard to the reasonableness or unreasonableness of a restraint of trade shall be shifted from the complainant to the defendant corporation. In addition to these recommendations, the committee's bill defines acts which shall constitute unreasonable restraints of trade.

Here are the three most important sections of the bill·

Section 10. Any person who shall be injured in his business or property, or shall be threatened with such injury by any other person or corporation by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act, may bring suit in equity in any circuit court of the United States in the district in which the defendant resides or is found, to prevent and restrain violations of this act and for other appropriate relief.

Section 11 Whenever suit has been instituted under Section 4 of this act, any person who shall be injured in his business or property or threatened with such injury by the defendants in said suit or any of them by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful in this act, in any state of the United States, may at any time intervene in said suit to protect his interests, or if the intervener be a state, the interests of the citizens of such state, and any persons interested or any state may after final decree in such suit petition said court for protection or redress in case of any violation of said decree, and the court shall have power to take such action as may be appropriate in the premises.

Section 12 Whenever in any suit it shall appear that any unlawful combination was entered into, existed or exists which was or is in restraint of trade, the burden of proof to establish the reasonableness of such restraint shall be upon the party who contends that such restraint is reasonable.

Section 13 Whenever in any suit it shall appear that any combination was entered into, existed or exists which was or is in restraint of trade, such restraint shall be conclusively deemed to have been and to be unreasonable and in violation of the provisions of this act as to any party thereto to which carrying any business to which such combination relates or in connection therewith."

Significance of Sections.

The significance of these four sections as described by the committee memorandum attached to its bill is as follows:

"Section 10 is designed to permit any individual to begin suit in equity for injunction under the Sherman anti-trust law. The courts have held that under the present law no such proceedings lies except at the instance of the government, not even if the petitioners were a state

"Section 11 is designed to give individuals or a state the opportunity to investigate a government suit"

The committee says that under Section 13 it has attempted to select various practices commonly pursued by trusts, which have proved particularly oppressive, and to set these up as rendering the combination conclusively unreasonable and therefore illegal

"It seems best," says the committee, "to adopt this form of securing prohibition in order to leave intact the present Sherman law as interpreted by the supreme court in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases.

"Practically every one of the practices specifically enumerated as being conclusively unreasonable has been reviewed in one or more of the trust cases as strong evidence of illegality and has been subjected to general public condemnation."

The practices, any one of which, if the Stanley committee has its way, will constitute presumptive evidence that the restraint exercised by the corporation is unreasonable, are set forth at some length.

The committee says in general in regard to its enumeration of acts which constitute unreasonable restraints of trade·

"This enumeration will serve the purpose of removing to a large extent that uncertainty in the Sherman law which was so widely complained of by business men after the decision of the supreme court of the Standard Oil cases declared that only combinations unreasonably in restraint of trade were prohibited."

Section 14 of the Stanley steel committee's bill also is a drastic one. It holds that the mere fact that an accused corporation control 30 per cent of the output of its product shall be presumptive evidence in the event of a combination in restraint of trade being shown, that such restraint was unreasonable.

The committee points out that the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts acquired hundreds of millions of dollars from the people through illegal practices, involving the destruction of many independent concerns

The provisions of Section 18 are designed to make clear the power of the court to bring about a real dissolution of the trusts and to avoid such shams as the alleged disintegration of the Tobacco trust and Standard Oil cases.

PARCELS POST BILL'S FEATURE

Appropriation Measure Is Reported to Senate.

BILL ELIMINATES "BLUE TAG" ORDER

Different Classes of Mail Are Affected.

An Innovation in Dealing with Appropriation Measures Is Seen in Senator Bourne's Filing of "Information Form" in the Postoffice Bill, in Which He Will Explain Matters with Footnotes.

Washington, July 23.—The postoffice appropriation bill carrying approximately $232,000,000 was reported to the senate today

The principal feature of the bill is a provision establishing a parcels post on the zone system This plan was worked out by Senator Bourne, chairman of the senate committee on postoffices and post roads

The bill also does away with the "blue tag" order of the postmaster general. This order had the effect of sending all second-class periodicals of more than weekly issue by fast freight instead of by regular mail trains. The bill makes no increase in second-class rates

Senator Bourne stated he will fill completely the report within the next two or three days. He also intends to submit what he characterizes as an "information form" of the bill In this he will set out with numbers and footnotes an explanation of each important item This is an innovation in dealing with appropriation bills in the senate.

The parcels post provision in the bill reported by the committee leaves third-class matter as it now exists. Third-class matter embraces printed documents for which the rate is one cent for each two ounces of fraction thereof

Fourth-Class Matter.

The fourth-class matter, to which the parcels post section applies, includes all matter not embraced in other classes, such as small packages up to eleven pounds and for which the charge under the present arrangement is one cent for each ounce or fraction

The Shackleford good roads provision, which was added in the house bill, is stricken out of the senate measure and as substitute is provided embodying the creation of a joint committee, three from each house, to be appointed by the respective chairman on postoffices and post roads with instructions to make a study of the good roads question and report to congress at the earliest possible date

The original Shackleford provision was for the payment by the federal government to different states and localities of stipulated and graduated sums according to the road improvement made by different states and localities, and over which rural and star route carriers operate.

CROP OUTLOOK PRIME FACTOR

Of the Present Business Situation, Says Clews.

FARMERS ENJOYING MORE PROSPERITY

Increasing Confidence Is Seen in Industrial Lines.

West of Alleghenies, the Drift of Sentiment Is Decidedly Toward Optimism, and This Feeling Is Slowly, but Surely, Making Itself Felt Throughout the Entire Atlantic Seaboard.

[BY HENRY CLEWS.]

New York, July 22.—The prime factor in our business situation at the moment is the splendid crop outlook. Wheat has been doing particularly well The result has been a decline of about seventeen cents per bushel during the past month, and the outlook is for a yield of about 700,000,000 bushels, compared with 621,000,000 last year, provided no injury occurs during the next ten days The only crops of importance concerning which there is any uncertainty are corn and cotton Both are late, but have recovered much of the lost ground. Their present outlook is for a very large yield, but both crops have a number of weeks to run before maturity August is usually a month of deterioration for both of these crops, whose chief dnager is early frost. Fortunately, there is ample margin in present conditions to secure a full average yield if nothing more than ordinary deterioration occurs The outlook agriculturally, therefore, is eminently satisfactory; and once more the farmers, who must be considered the backbone of the country, are assured a profitable harvest.

Prices Still High.

Prices are still high for nearly all agricultural products, but that must be chiefly attributed to relative scarcity. The United States is much in need of better results from the farm The last census shows that while our population increased twenty per cent. in the decade, the acreage under cultivation increased about two per cent This, it need hardly be said, has not a little to do with the high cost of living. Our farmers should get busy and increase their product by more scientific methods, if not by larger acreage

Living on the farm is in many respects much more attractive than formerly, and it is high time that the tide should turn back to the farm, if only to prevent the unwholesome congestion of population in our large cities which seriously augments social discomfort and unrest

The Iron Trade.

Another direction in which improvement is noticeable is in the iron trade. The railroads have again been buying materials and equipment with greater freedom and in spite of advancing prices. It is many months since the steel trade has been in as satisfactory condition as today. Production is running on a record-breaking scale. General business can not be expected to persistently ignore such encouraging conditions in agriculture and in the great basic steel industry From all parts of the interior come reports of increasing confidence on the part of business men bankers and those at the head of industrial affairs Preparations are now being made for a good fall and winter trade. Politics are much less disturbing and there is an inclination to sidetrack such issues as far as possible West of the Alleghanies the drift of sentiment is decidedly toward optimism, and this feeling is slowly but surely making itself felt throughout the entire Atlantic seaboard

Monetary Outlook.

The monetary outlook has improved A better demand for funds is anticipated in the early future owing to corp requirements and the increasing activity of business Our banks have been strengthening their position by calling in of loans, which evidently had much to do with last week's liquidation in stocks The situation abroad has been much easier since the July settlements in Berlin were safely passed, and there is no immediate prospect of any further European demands upon our financial resources On the contrary, it is more than likely that any activity here and consequent hardening of rates would result in the withdrawal of American funds now being used in the foreign markets

Our own financial situation is sound and strong, affording excellent basis for rising confidence. It is just as well, however, to be prepared for surprises in politics, because a campaign of more than three months' duration is ahead of us and the political weather-cock is notoriously fickle.

Disquieting Element.

Along with the steady elimination of radical tendencies there is a steady trend of conservative forces toward the reelection of Mr Taft, whose chances of success today are probably better than at any time since the convention The prospect of tariff reduction is, of course, the most disquieting element, and one that can not be escaped Both sides are committed to revision, yet there is no good reason to anticipate that either party will assume a policy of destruction.

The sooner Congress adjourns the better. We have had a further illustration of its declination to mischief by its unsound attitude on the Panama canal. The Hay-Pauncefote treaty was a mutual agreement in which we freely consented to allow all nations to use the canal on equal terms International treaties are sacred obligations, not to be broken for trifles or special interests. This treaty was a price we gladly paid for absolute control and ownership. It is also similar to the arrangement which has long existed between Great Britain and ourselves regarding the use of the Canadian canals.

Recognizes Justice.

Once upon a time the Canadians chafed under a similar circumstance and sought preferential treatment for Canadian commerce on her own waterways much as we have attempted lately.

We protested and Great Britain very promptly recognized the justice of equal terms to all users and the necessity of keeping the treaty terms. The rule which we insisted upon at that time we must be prepared to accept today. Repudiation of a treaty on such light grounds is unthinkable by a self-respecting nation.

Complete returns are not at hand of our foreign commerce for the fiscal year ending June 30. Our total foreign trade amounted to $31,857,000,000, which was $280,000,000 in excess of the previous year, and much the largest on record. Our exports in that period were $2,204,000,000, also a record-breaking total, and $154,000,000 in excess of last year. Importations broke the record, reaching $1,653,000,000 or $126,000,000 in excess of last year

Irregular Market.

These figures leave an excess of exports over imports amounting to $550,000,000, which was only surpassed once, in 1908 when the excess was $666,000,000

The outlook is for an irregular market No very pronounced recessions are to be anticipated and moderate rallies seem probable. No sustained bull movement, however, is to be expected until the vacation absentees return and the political outlook becomes more clear Leadership is still lacking. There is good reason for a confident uncertone, but the financial weather reports suggest "rising barometer or fair weather, with occasional light showers." Investment conditions are satisfactory and choice securities can be purchased with confidence on every reaction

DENEEN LOYAL TO REPUBLICANS

Refuses To Join with Roosevelt Third Party Ticket.

GOVERNOR REPLIES TO THE COMMITTEE

Sent by Bull Moose Followers To Question Him.

It Is Plain That There Is Only One Course I Can Pursue, Says Illinois Executive, and That Is To Support the Republican Nominee for President—Will Be Third Party Ticket in the Field.

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—In reply to the third party committee of five which came from Chicago to Springfield today to sound Governor Deneen and other state officers as to how they will stand in the national campaign this fall, the governor said he would support the Republican ticket

"It is plain," he said, "that there is only one course I can pursue. Having sought the support of Republicans and having been chosen their candidate or governor, no opportunity is afforded Republican electors to change their mind.

"If there are Republicans in Illinois who can not support the national ticket, it must be a strange situation, indeed, if they cannot support men whose nomination they do not question

"I am legally the Republican nominee for governor and am morally bound by obligation to that position"

All other candidates for state offices gave the committee similar reply with the exception of Lieutenant-Governor Oglesby, who has not yet given his answer.

Vouches for Third Party.

Chicago, July 22.—There will be a third party state ticket in Illinois. This was virtually asserted by Senator Joseph M Dixon, campaign manager for Roosevelt, today, when he said such a ticket would be put in nomination unless Governor Deneen pledged his support to Theodore Roosevelt. At noon today, Deneen said he would stand as the nominee of the Republican party and support the Republican nominees.

Parties Lock Horns.

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—The Progressive party in Kentucky has locked horns with the Republicans in a fight for official recognition.

The Progressives propose to poll a larger vote in the coming state election than the Republicans, which will entitle them to participate in the next state primary. Under the state law, only two parties polling the lagrest vote can enter the primary.

DEATH FOLLOWS STORM'S TRIAL

Great Damage Done Throughout the Country.

PITTSBURGH AND BALTIMORE HIT

Columbus and Louisville Report Destruction.

Storm Passes from Columbus to the Great Lakes and Reaches the Atlantic Coast This Morning—High Water Compels Hundreds To Flee from Homes—Telegraph and Telephone Wires Blown Down.

Pittsburgh, July 22.—In a storm which extended from Columbus, Ohio, east up as far as the lakes and reached the Atlantic coast this morning, much damage was done by high water. All western Pennsylvania suffered from a rain which in five minutes recorded a downfall of .38 inch, a local record. In three separate storms the rainfall was 2.37 inches.

A cloudburst at Turtle Creek forced five feet of water into the city's streets and forced families to flee to the second floor Many industrial plants will be crippled temporarily by the high waters.

Some humorous incidents are reported in connection with the storm. Timber run, near Elizabeth, Pennsylvania, became so swollen that it carried a great log on its crest. Charles Pancoast sat with his family at supper at their home in Lovedale hollow The run rose against the house A crash came and the big log came in one parlor window and out through the other, while Pancoast took his family away from the reach of the flood.

Two Men Are Missing.

Wilmington, Del., July 22.—Two men are missing, believed to be drowned, and widespread damage was done by a terrific storm that played havoc throughout Delaware last night and early today. An empty boat, in which Frank Incoline, twenty-four, and Andrew Conyiti, twenty-eight, were rowing, has been found. Neither has been seen since and they were undoubtedly capsized and drowned

Several houses were struck by lightning, many others were unroofed by the wind and scores of trees were uprooted.

Terrific in Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 22.—A trail of death and destruction lies in the wake of a terrific windstorm which broke over Baltimore late yesterday. Roofs were blown from houses, canoes on the river and bay were capsized. Tents at summer camps and pleasure resorts were torn from their fastenings and made the sport of the tempest. Telegraph wires were blown down and considerable damage done to the crops.

One man was drowned, Alwain R. Johnson, who was in a rowboat, which was overturned.

In Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—Storms Sunday did damage of $50,000 or more in Louisville and kept thousands of Sunday excursionists marooned for hours at the resorts. The heaviest individual loss was to Herman Straus Sons & Company's department store, where lightning set off the automatic sprinkler system and flooded the store, with $25,000 damage.

TWO CHILDREN ARE SHOT DOWN BY GUN FIGHTERS

Thugs Do Battle in New York's East Side District.

Gangsters Fire Score of Shots While Hundreds Are on Streets, but They Escape Without Being Identified. Police Are on Trail.

New York, July 23—Two children were dying in Bellevue hospital today while a police dragnet was thrown out on the East Side as the result of the latest street battle between bands of New York's gun-fighting thugs. Tessie Bierbaum, nine years old, is dying with a bullet wound in the abdomen, and Vincenzo Mazzerella, fourteen years old, her playmate, is on an adjoining cot with fatal wounds in the back and abdomen.

The children were shot down near their homes in east Twelfth street last night when two gangs of three men each met there and raced through the street, emptying their revolvers at each other. Scores of shots were fired Hundreds of men, women and children were in the street at the time, and the bullets flew about them like hail, but so far as the police know Tessie and Vincenzo were the only two injured.

The gangsters made their escape without being identified The police today are rounding up the haunts of all the notorious East Side gangs in an endeavor to locate them

ALL TRACE OF GIRL IS LOST

Gotham Girl's Disappearance Puzzles Police.

ALMOST IDENTICAL WITH ARNOLD CASE

Morgues, Hospitals and Cities Are Searched.

Latest Girl To Disappear from New York Is Popular and Prominent Member of Wealthy Family—She Is Seen on Street and Then She Drops from Sight—Detectives Fail To Solve Mystery in Case.

New York, July 23.—A fruitless search of the morgues and hospitals in three cities for Miss Dorcas Lymans Snodgrass, a beautiful Mt. Vernon girl, whose disappearance without apparent cause Wednesday morning is almost identical with the Dorothy Arnold case, ended today, leaving the detectives engaged as far from solving the mystery as when they were called in.

Not since the Arnold case has such interest been aroused. Like the Arnold girl, Miss Snodgrass was of a wealthy and socially promient family, popular and winning. Like Miss Arnold, too, she was engaged to be married shortly. On the morning of her disappearance two friends saw and spoke to her, receiving a nod as the girl hurried by. This was in the Grand Central station.

All Trace Is Lost.

Also Miss Snodgrass declared on leaving the house that she intended to do some shopping From the packing of her trunks for a trip to California, Miss Snodgrass stepped to a train, rolled out of the Grand Central station and all trace of her has since been lost.

Since she came from Martinsburg, West Virginia, five years ago, she has made her home with her sister, Mrs. John L. Crider, whose husband is chief engineer of the newly-completed Boston, Westchester & Mt. Vernon railroad. On her twenty-fifth birthday, last October, she entered the training school for nurses in Mt. Vernon. She sought to become nurse, not for want of money, for she was comfortably situated, but from sheer love of nursing and a desire to know something of medicine. Her success was marked.

MITCHELL GETS NINE MONTHS

Sentenced by Judge Wright in Washington.

IS THIRD OF LABOR MEN CONVICTED

After Being Declared Guilty of Contempt.

Attorney for Mitchell Takes an Appeal to District Court of Appeals and Enters Bond in $5,000 for Vice President of American Federation of Labor, Who Is Found Guilty with Gompers and Morrison.

Washington, July 23.—In district court, No. 2, today Judge Wright sentenced John Mitchell, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, to nine months in the district jail for contempt of court.

Mitchell, with Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, president and secretary respectively of the federation, was found guilty of contempt in violating an injunction against the boycott in the Bucks Stove & Range company's case Mitchell, through his attorney, Fred L. Siddons, waived his right to be present in the following statement filed with the court.

"Now comes John Mitchell, respondent in the above entitled cause, and showing to the court that he is at this time at a great distance from the City of Washington and that attendance there would be the occasion of serious inconvenience to him, requests that sentence to be imposed upon him in the above entitled cause may be imposed without his presence, he hereby waiving so far as the imposition of sentence is concerned any right on his part to be present at the time of its imposition, and stipulates that it shall have the same effect and force as if he were personally present"

The statement was sworn to by Mitchell, July 17 in Oregon

Attorney Siddons took an appeal to the district court of appeals and entered bond in $5,000 for Mitchell. Gompers and Morrison have appealed and are under bond in the same amount.

FOLLOWERS OF COLONEL SCORED

Termed Political Pirates by Wyoming Man.

THIRD-PARTY IDEA IS REVOLUTIONARY PLAN

The Most Impudent of Political Larceny, Is Charge.

Wyoming Representative Makes a Rousing Speech in House When He Seeks To Vindicate President Taft of Roosevelt Charges of Theft of Delegates at Chicago Convention. His Speech.

Washington, July 24.—Theodore Roosevelt's followers were termed "pirates and the entire Republican progressive movement referred to as the 'most impudent and revolutionary plan of larceny every conceived" in a speech delivered by Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, Tuesday, in which he sought to vindicate President Taft of the colonel's accusations of theft of delegates at the Chicago convention. Representative Mondell served on the credentials committee at Chicago.

"The claim," Mondell said, "that Roosevelt was denied the nomination through the larceny of delegates is expected not only to contribute directly to the third-party movement, but also to furnish the excuse for the most impudent and revolutionary plan of political larceny every conceived It is proposed to steal the liberty and secure the benefits of Republican state organizations, while at the same time it repudiates the party and candidaes It is difficult to conceive a more shameless proposal of pure piracy than this. In Pennsylvania, for instance, the Republican voters, I am told, are expected to fly the Republican flag and secure whatever benefits can thus be obtained, with the expectation eventually of scuttling the ship after having gotten away with the cargo.

Deliberate Attempts.

"As admitted by the Roosevelt managers themselves, they started out deliberately at the beginning of the pre-convention campaign to create contests A large number of these contests were pure fiction. The contesting delegates claimed to be elected at conventions, which, if held at all, were held a month or two after the regular conventions.

"The action of the Republican national convention in the seating of delegates was correct, just and equitable No one is justified in condemning the action of the Republican convention on mere hearsay, as has been largely done, and to be informed of the fact is to be convinced there *is no ground for criticism. The con*vention acted honestly and in a spirit of fairness, in harmony with party interests and for the good of the American people '

Mondell defended the action of the credentials committee in all of the contests

Democrats Had Excuse.

Asserting that Champ Clark supporters had more excuse for bolting at Baltimore than the Roosevelt supporters had for forming a third party after the Chicago convention, Mr. Mondell said

"Why are not the Democrats of Missouri proposing to have the Democratic electors in that state vote for Champ Clark? The Democrats of that state, by a large and enthusiastic majority, expressed their preference first, last and all the time for their beloved fellow citizen, the honored and respected speaker of the house. By all reasonable and proper rules he was the candidate of that convention. In the moment of his triumph the great prize was ruthlessly snatched from him without warrant, justification or excuse.

"If there are any electors anywhere, who have any sort of justification for being traitors to the binding and sacred obligation which rests upon an elector to vote for the candidate of the party that placed him in nomination, they are the Democratic electors in Missouri. I assume, however, that they, like the man they honored with their votes, are honest citizens and no such thought has entered their minds."

Part Munsey Plays.

Mondell referred to the aid Frank Munsey, the publisher, has given the third party movement, and the Taft defender sarcastically quoted an article from one of the Munsey papers in which the admission was contained that some of the earlier Roosevelt contests were started for "psychological effect and that there was no expectation of winning all the contests."

"The southern contests were too raw for the stomachs of even the most prejudiced Roosevelt supporters" continued Mr. Mondell. "It must have been galling to have to admit that these contests were simply gotten up to fool the people "

Congressman Mondell also quoted the Chicago Tribune as follows:

"The colonel showed the reporters a table of delegates he expects to be seated on the Alabama list. It was known that he had conceded twenty-four to President Taft and claimed only two for himself."

"And yet in the colonel's interest," concluded Mondell, "all the Alabama delegates had been contested and all were claimed for him by his managers."

HOGAN RECEIVES TIP FROM LETTER

Then Decides To Try and Oust Pennsylvania Railroad

Columbus, O., July 24. — Attorney General Hogan has announced his intention of bringing suit in the circuit court to oust the Pennsylvania railroad from doing business in Ohio on the ground that it has entered into a conspiracy to control passenger traffic in the Buckeye state.

Mr. Hogan's determination to act was taken after a letter purporting to have been written by George W. Boyd, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, to Commissioner F. C. Donald of the Central Passenger association, Chicago, had fallen into his hands. The letter reads in part as follows:

"We are glad to lend our aid to Central Traffic association lines in their effort to secure relief from the 2-cent law by refraining from running our usual special excursions between Pittsburg, Buffalo and intermediate points during the summer season. In view, however, of the fact that a number of C. T. A. lines are running special excursions at rates less than 1 cent per mile, we have decided to renew our special excursion arrangements in the Buffalo and Pittsburg territories on the basis of rates in effect last season."

At the same time Hogan said he would get into communication with the attorney generals of Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania with a view to investigating the inner workings of the Central Traffic association.

A TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY

Is What Wilson Will Try To Secure.

MANY EVILS ARE LAID TO TARIFF

Governor Prepares Speech of Acceptance.

Democratic Nominee's Secretary Says Document Is Nearing Completion and May Be Ready by Saturday. William McAdoo Will Be Vice Chairman of Democratic Executive Committee.

Seagirt, N. J., July 24.—Governor Wilson put in five hours on his speech of acceptance yesterday. He resumed the work this morning, but was interrupted to sign some papers. Unlike some other public officer, the governor insists on reading every word of a public document before attaching his signature to it. The state papers, therefore, occupied considerable time. He returned immediately to the speech.

The chief topic of discussion in this document, it was learned today, will be the tariff, which the governor regards as the root of most evils from which the American people are suffering. Governor Wilson proposes to secure a tariff for revenue only.

The governor regards the tariff as responsible in a large measure for the high cost of living. The tariff, it is expected, will take up at least half of the letter of acceptance.

Governor Wilson is at the home of a friend, about twenty-five miles from here. Joseph H. Tumulty, the governor's secretary, who was with him all day yesterday, returned here for some papers. He said the governor was progressing nicely with his speech, and that he will return to Seagirt with the speech completed by Saturday.

McAdoo Is the Man.

New York, July 24.—William G. McAdoo, the tunnel builder, will be appointed vice chairman of the Democratic executive committee. He will be chosen at the meeting of the committee in New York.

SHOOTS LAWYER DOWN IN OFFICE

Former Client Tries To Kill a New York Attorney.

OFFICE CLERK SHOT IN AIDING EMPLOYER

Would-Be Assassin Captured by Police.

Shooting Causes Considerable Excitement—Man Who Shoots Lawyer Intended To Kill Him and Then Take His Own Life, Say Police. Wounded Men Are Rushed to Hospital—Attorney May Die.

New York, July 24.—Joseph Fettretch, senior member of the firm of Fettretch & Seydel, attorneys at No. 41 Park Row, was fatally shot by a former client in his office on the ninth floor shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. A clerk, who attempted to save his employer, also was wounded. The assassin fired three bullets into Fettretch's body before he was overcome and arrested. When he was taken to the police station he gave the name of Conway.

Norman Bergs, the clerk who attempted to frustrate the attempt of Conway to murder his employer, received a bullet wound in the hip. His condition is not serious.

Fettretch was removed to St. Gregory's hospital. He was unconscious when taken from the office.

The shooting caused considerable excitement in the building, and a crowd of 1,000 people gathered about the entrance when Fettretch was taken out to the ambulance.

Flees from Offices.

Conway, it is believed, expected to take his own life after carrying out his attempt to kill Fettretch. He ran from the offices occupied by the lawyers and was caught in the corridors by tenants of the building, who heard the shooting. He was taken to the Oak Street police station.

According to the account given the police by Bergh, Conway stepped into the room and asked to see Fettretch. He was ushered into Fettretch's presence and immediately began shooting. Bergh jummped in front of Conway in an effort to shield his employer, and received one of the bullets in the hip, a pocketbook filled with cards staying its progress and probably saving him from more serious injury. As Fettretch fell to the floor, Conway rushed from the office.

Fettretch died shortly after his arrival at the hospital. He was sixty-eight years old.

Fettretch's assailant was later identified as Joseph J. Conroy, of Brooklyn.

The shooting had its inception in a domestic quarrel of Conroy's, which found its way into court. Fettretch was appointed referee to hear both sides of he case, but he did not report in time to satisfy Conroy. He began to haunt the lawyer's office and made himself a nuisance, according to the clerks there.
